Committee Approves Eleven State Revenue Measures

95 MILLIONS ARE NEEDED TO BALANCE SERA SPENDS $223,000 IN COUNTY IN APRIL

Three Percent Consumers' Tax on Utility Services Passed by Group

TRANSFER AUTO TAX

Ad Valorem Proposition is Still to Come Before Committee for Action

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 2.—(UP)—Revenue measures which would raise an estimated $120,000,000 biennially were tentatively agreed upon today by the joint steering committee in its attempt to work out a logical solution to the state's financial problems. Only $95,000,000 is needed to balance the budget.

Eleven separate tax proposals were approved by a majority of the 15 committee members. Considerable question arose on the amount of revenue each tax might be expected to raise, and the committee decided to seek new estimates from various sources before completing a final program for presentation to both houses of the legislature.

The taxes which won tentative approval today were:

- 1—A 3 per cent consumers' tax on utility services, $16,000,000.
- 2—Transfer of the automobile tax from counties to the state, $25,000,000.
- 3—Increased beer tax, $1,000,000.
- 4—Truck tax, $1,400,000.

Considered Plans

These, added to the seven proposed taxes approved yesterday, would raise approximately $120,000,000 in a two-year period, members of the committee estimated. The revenue producing schemes considered yesterday included a 60 cents a gallon tax on hard liquor, doubled bank and corporation franchise taxes, increased inheritance tax, an income tax at one-fourth the federal rate, increased automobile license fees and a 3 per cent sales tax with food exempt.

The 11 proposed taxes in addition to other suggestions will be submitted to the board of equalization, department of finance and Controller Ray L. Riley for new estimates on the amount of money they might be expected to raise. The committee then will meet early next week and attempt

BONUS ISSUE TAKEN UP IN U. S. SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(UP)—The soldiers' bonus issue was precipitated today into a bitter senate fight. Leaders hoped to dispose of it quickly and take up president Roosevelt's major legislative program.

Although the senate formally took up the compromise proposal of Sen. Pat Harrison, D., Miss., two other proposals—the Patman and Vinson-American Legion bills—were expected to enter into the fight.

GERMANY'S AIR FLEET IS HELD EQUAL TO ANY

Minister of Aviation in Statement Says It Is Most Modern

BERLIN, May 2.—(UP)—Germany's new air fleet is as modern as any in the world, Hermann Goering, minister of aviation, told the Foreign Press today.

Germany's air force has no old planes and no old motors, he said.

He declined to give figures, saying, "it is small but it has the stuff."

"The ultimate size of the air fleet will be determined only by the size of the fleets of surrounding countries and in a manner which will enable Germany to withstand any attack by single or combined power," Goering added.

"x x the air force will always remain strong to the extent to which the rest of the world is for or against peace."

The minister of aviation, inferring his country's readiness to enter a multilateral pact, added that "the German air fleet is designed only for defense purposes but will always be at the disposal of the nation for the maintenance of peace."

"I always said that Germany must have a defense force. It is not my fault that Germany now has bombing planes. Others refused to get rid of their silly offensive weapons."

"When the others decide to eliminate their air forces altogether, we will not hold back," Goering added. "If they do so in two years, Germany will follow suit, but in the meantime we will gladly go to the expense of further rearmament even though eventually it may be in vain."

The means by which the air force was created was "original and unique in air history," Goering explained.

He said that he had organized all industry and resources "which would enable me, when the time came, to place the air force with one fell swoop at the nation's disposal."

NRA FACING TEST IN SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(UP)—The NRA came before the supreme court today for a test of its constitutionality.

Donald R. Richberg, who helped write the act, served as its general counsel and now is its head, led New Deal attorneys in defense of Roosevelt's most bitterly controversial recovery measure.

Teamed with Stanley Reed, solicitor general newly appointed especially to argue this important case, Richberg threw the full force of the administration into an effort to overthrow New York federal court rulings against vital sections of the act.

New Deal Is Attacked In Resolutions

U. S. Chamber of Commerce and President Reported in Break

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(UP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce today vigorously and formally denounced virtually all phases of the New Deal's 1935 program.

The action came as the White House belittled reports of a break between President Roosevelt and the business leaders.

In a series of strongly-worded resolutions, the chamber closed its 23rd annual meeting by urging that:

1. The present NRA law be allowed to expire and that congress vote a "substitute bill" on a strictly temporary and limited basis.
2. Permission of business to regulate itself must be forthcoming.
3. The pending utilities bill outlawing holding companies must not be passed, and regulation of public utilities must not be taken over by the federal government from the states.
4. The 30-hour work-week should not be made into law, nor should the proposed permanent National Labor board be established.
5. The Federal Reserve system cannot be changed fundamentally without detriment to the country.
6. The AAA must change its policies in connection with the restriction of exportable farm products "inevitably reacts" against the nation's economy.

Adoption of the resolutions was interrupted when Dr. W. F. Goehring, St. Louis, chairman of the resolutions committee, presented one concerning social legislation. The resolutions were moderately worded and urged that congress study carefully the problems of taxation before enacting President Roosevelt's security legislation.

Thomas Creigh of the Chicago Association of Commerce, who wanted a stronger resolution, moved that the committee's statement

SPECULATORS DUMP SILVER ON MARKET

LONDON, May 2.—(UP)—Speculators who had anticipated a one-way upside silver market under the guiding hand of the United States treasury became alarmed today and dumped silver. The price broke 2 1/8 pence to 32 3/4 pence (70.51 cents) per ounce, wiping out the entire advance made since April 23.

Today's price was 37 3/8 pence per ounce below the record high since July 8, 1922, which was established April 26 at 36 1/4 pence.

Exodus of the speculators from the market followed inaction of the United States treasury in boosting its silver buying price. World markets had been following up the treasury price which was fixed a short time ago at 77.57 cents per ounce for newly mined metal. Speculators had held silver over the market to force the treasury to bid for it.

LOOT ARMORED CAR, FLEE WITH $20,000

BOSTON, May 2.—(UP)—Four bandits held up an armored payroll car today and escaped with $20,000, a patrolman reported to the Dorchester police station.

The bandits used machine-guns in the holdup.

The bank machine was occupied by Earl Rogers of South Weymouth and Samuel Oldfield of Weymouth and was enroute to the Weymouth Trust company from a Boston bank.

The bandit car forced them to the curb. Two men jumped from the car and ordered Oldfield and Rogers to surrender the money. Two confederates remained in the machine.

The money consisted of $12,000 in $5 bills, $1000 in $2 bills and $7000 in $1 bills.

NEWPORT CITY ENGINEER TO ASK BIDS IMMEDIATELY ON ARCHES OVERHEAD CROSSING

Bids on grading work for the projected overhead highway crossing at the Arches, at the entrance to Newport Beach, will be advertised immediately, it was announced today by city engineer R. L. Patterson of Newport Beach with work to start on about July 1.

Estimates for the grading, paving and placing of abutments before actual work on the bridge construction can start call for an expenditure of approximately $100,000 for that phase of the work.

The two bridges will be constructed at a total cost of approximately $80,000, it was estimated by Patterson today.

Deeds of title to Southern Pacific right of way, which is being purchased by the state of California, were placed in escrow yesterday, and work will be begun immediately by the railroad in removing rails, ties and other equipment from the right of way.

Work of placing the overhead crossing at the Arches is being done jointly by the state highway department and the city of Newport Beach.

AGRICULTURAL WORKERS OF COUNTY STORM NRS OFFICE WHEN CUT FROM RELIEF ROLLS

AGRICULTURAL workers jammed the National Relief Service office today seeking private work in the fields of Orange county after an announcement was made yesterday which will result in the dropping of about 900 agricultural workers from SERA relief rolls so they can return to work on the farms.

More than 250 workers stormed the NRS offices for work, and about 50 were sent out at once on jobs. The balance will be placed as soon as farmers who need laborers will contact the NRS office.

Charles Fallert, who is in charge of the NRS office, today made an urgent plea to farmers to call or contact the agricultural workers who may be sent out on private jobs as they are separated from work relief. There are no fees attached to registration of workers at the employment service office or for furnishing the help, Fallert pointed out.

In a drastic move to relieve the situation in Orange county agriculture brought about through an acute shortage of farm labor, the SERA committee, backed by the Farm Bureau, yesterday started to eliminate the 900 workers from the relief rolls.

Farm leaders agreed to assure workers the possibility of earning 22 1/2 cents an hour in the field work now available, which mostly is in the beet fields. After May 15 no agricultural labor shall be permitted to return to the relief rolls provided every honest effort has been made by the worker to secure a job and that by the class of work he performs he demonstrates every effort to hold the job.

ARIZONA ACTS TO BALK RIVER PLAN

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 2.—(UP)—Arizona moved today to prevent congressional passage of California-sponsored legislation which possibly might be detrimental to the state's rights to Colorado river water.

James R. Moore, prominent Phoenix attorney, was appointed special attorney general and will leave Saturday for Washington to confer with members of Arizona's congressional delegation. Part of his duties, it was explained, will be to assist in preventing approval of legislation authorizing construction of Parker dam without this state's consent.

Reports here were that California congressmen shortly would introduce bills designed to permit construction of the dam, building of which was stopped this week by Arizona's victory in United States supreme court. The court held procedure under which the dam was being built was faulty.

CONSIDER CENTRAL VALLEY PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(UP)—The question of whether to approve California's Central Valley project today was before the project committee of the Rivers and Harbors congress, meeting here in its annual session.

The proposal presented by Francis Carr, Redding, Cal., a member of the committee, who asked that it be placed on the list of projects recommended by the congress for immediate construction.

Carr laid special stress on navigation and flood control features and values from the viewpoint of conserving valuable and productive farm lands. He called attention to the salinity control it would grant residents of the Sacramento-San Joaquin delta areas.

Others who supported the proposal were California Reps. Frank H. Buck, D.; Harry E. Englebright, R.; and Albert E. Carter, R. State Engineer Edward Hyatt; C. E. Menges, Stockton, and James Fawcett, Exeter, Tulare county.

Near Record Established Last Month

Veal and Beef Received by Director for Distribution to Needy

APPROXIMATELY a quarter of a million dollars was expended in Orange county through SERA during the month of April which just ended, it was learned today from Director Terrence H. Halloran.

Only in one other month in the history of SERA in Orange county was more money expended for relief. This was in January of this year, when relief expenditures aggregated $225,640.49. April was a close second with $223,345.13 being spent during the period.

A total of $208,778.94 was spent in April for work relief and direct relief; $4663.81 were spent for materials, and other miscellaneous costs, while $9904.38 were spent out of county bond money for direct relief.

The expenditure in March of this year amounted to $208,103.92. In February expenditures amounted to $210,566.54. Relief costs in December, 1934, amounted to $168,808.76.

Director Halloran today also announced receipt of 510 cases of veal and 510 cases of beef for distribution to needy families in the county during May. There are 24 cans of the meat to each case. The food is part of the government surplus which is distributed monthly. Supplies of surplus foods are being cut down, Halloran said, because of shortage of foods and high prices.

MATRICIDE PAYS SUPREME PENALTY

BELLEVIEW, Ont., May 2.—(UP)—Harold Vermilyea, who hacked his mother to death with a hatchet, was hanged in the Belleville jail yard at 12:10 a. m. today.

The Ontario, Cal., man was an impatient figure exhorting his executioners to speed as he was led into the dimly lighted yard. He showed no emotion and his voice was without expression as he uttered his last words:

"Let's get on with this," he urged guards as his hands were being bound. "I have no regrets. Whatever error I committed was for those I love. I had no intention of killing my mother. I didn't know what I was doing."

TAX PLAN PROTESTS DELUGING SOLONS

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—(UP)—Strong opposition to a proposed tax on chain stores flooded the legislature today as the assembly prepared to consider the bill as a special order of business this afternoon.

The bill, approved by committees of both houses, would levy chain store taxes on a scale graduating from $1 to $500, with the higher rate being assessed each branch above 10.

State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson joined other opponents of the measure today when he said the bill would bankrupt thousands of stores, retard recovery, increase unemployment and "cost us millions of dollars in revenue, rather than increasing revenue."

JAPAN DEFENDS RIGHT FOR BIG NAVY IN EAST

TOKIO, May 2.—(UP)—Japan defended her right for a superior navy in the Orient today in a pamphlet published by the Japanese navy department as a preliminary to the celebration of the observance of Admiral Togo's victory over the Russian fleet at Port Arthur.

The United States' refusal to concede Japanese naval parity was rapped inferentially in the navy pamphlet by the statement:

"However, some other powers with a century of Eastern influence do not understand Japan's position."

Approximately 100,000 of the pamphlets were distributed.

Under the subtitle "Questions of Disarmament," the pamphlet said: "The Russian fleet came to 10,000 miles, but Japan's superior navy controlled the sea and won victory, insuring the safety of Japan's army in Manchuria and making the victory complete."

"The battle proved absolutely superior power is necessary to victory."

"With present modernizations, navies are able to come to the Orient from any distance with their whole power. Without superior power in control of the Orient, the Orient is lost."

PART OF FLEET AT ANCHOR IN S. F. BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—(UP)—A wing of 46 vessels of the most powerful United States navy fleet ever assembled in peacetime swung at anchor in San Francisco bay today in a brief respite from mid-Pacific maneuvers.

Out at sea, rolling toward Alaska, were the rest of the 153 vessels in the battle fleet. They were taking up positions in the great war game now underway.

Visitors were barred from the vessels here after the craft slipped through the Golden Gate yesterday under cover of early-morning darkness.

Friday, the units here will steam out for an encounter with the powerful wing commander by Vice Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn in which will be worked out "naval problem No. 15."

Radio Station is Disabled as Invasion of Manila Reported Threatening

MANILA, May 3, (Friday)—(UP)—An uprising of Sakdalists, members of a communist organization, was reported early today from the provinces. Several men and boys were reported injured in Santa Rosa.

Several telephone lines north and south of Manila have been cut.

Twenty-nine Sakdalista suspects have been rounded up in Manila and placed under arrest.

Major J. E. H. Stevenot of the Philippine constabulary reported all telephone lines north, including lines to Baguio, famous summer capital of the Philippines, had been cut at Maricao, 14 miles north of Manila.

Major Stevenot said all telephone lines south had been cut at Binan, 13 miles away.

Many rumors were circulated that the Sakdalists intended to invade Manila.

A constabulary detachment was ordered rushed to Maricao, which is in Bulacan province.

Lines Are Down

The Bureau of Posts reported at 12:45 a. m. (8:58 a. m. PST) that all its telegraph lines north of Manila were down, undoubtedly cut by the Sakdalists.

Only communication northward was by radio to Baguio.

GANGSTERS BRAVE GAS TO LOOT BANK

CHICAGO, May 2.—(UP)—Machine gun bandits today robbed the Citizens State bank at Park Ridge of between $8000 and $10,000.

The bandits apparently were experienced in their trade. When a girl employee pressed a switch that released the tear gas, the bandits pulled heavy goggles over their eyes, stuffed handkerchiefs in their mouths and proceeded to gather all available cash in spite of the gas.

Twelve employees and five customers who were ordered to lie on the floor while the holdup was in progress choked and wept in the fumes.

Four bandits comprised the raiding party. One remained in an automobile at the curb. Another stood at the door armed with a machine gun and the remaining two vaulted the tellers' cages and took the money.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

SANTA MONICA, May 2.—(To the Editor of The Register:) The great argument with all Americans who want to join in with Europe and help set the world right was that any one that was not in favor of it was pretty narrow minded and selfish. In plain words, it's the dumb folks that are "agin" it. Well, read today's papers, the Premiers of Canada, Australia, South Africa and New Zealand have never been considered anything but intelligent, yet they notified England to quit messing around on the opposite bank of the English Channel. So the American dumb ones are in pretty good company.

WILL ROGERS.

tion lines appeared to have been cut in accordance with a well laid plan.

The Sakdal party, allegedly made up of radicals and political left-wingers, has been campaigning in the provinces for rejection of the Philippine constitution.

In recent demonstrations, the Sakdalistas, parading with red flags, have protested against the government for imposing high taxes.

They contend that the transition period of 10 years before independence will strangle the poor people of the Philippines.

Gatherings Held

The Sad Kalista center their attacks against the Filipino leaders who, they claim, have changed their former stand for immediate independence and accepted the Tydings-McDuffie law which requires a transition period of 10 years before independence.

Many Sad Kalista gatherings have been held in the last few weeks in Cebu, Zamboanga, San Antonio, Cebu, Gapan, Nuevo Ecija and Manila.

Throughout Manila and elsewhere in the affected area United States troops are standing by guarding army property.

Officers said, however, the army will not intervene unless acting Governor Hayden requests.

Hayden left Baguio several days ago for inspection of the mountain provinces. He is believed to be in Bontok today.

The Sad Kalistas recently were accused in Tayabas province of plotting to overthrow the government and assassinate Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate.

Main strength of the Sad Kal party is among the Agrarians of central Luzon.

Trouble was reported early this morning in the town of San Juan Rimal, five miles east of Manila.

Police patrolled downtown Manila streets with riot guns.

NO APPOINTMENT MADE BY SHERIFF

No appointment has been made to fill the vacancy on the sheriff's farm theft detail left by the recent dismissal of Deputy Sam Snodgrass. It was stated today by Sheriff Logan Jackson.

Jackson said he would announce an appointment soon. The county supervisors have recommended Deputy Sheriff Ezra Stanley, now a court bailiff, and formerly an orchard patrolman in private employe.

Announce Plans For Camping By Girl Scout Units

Announcing plans for two Girl Scout camps to be in session in July at Camp Rokoll, Mrs. Ray H. Synder, camp chairman, today indicated that last year's successful camp arrangements will be duplicated this summer as far as possible.

Girl Scouts who attended in 1934 will find their expenses for an outing in 1935 balancing in almost all respects except food, which will cost them 25 per cent more this year than last, according to the budget outlined by the Girl Scout central committee. Transportation costs and clothing requirements will be almost identical the same as they have been in the past, she said.

This year's camp for girls will open either Monday, July 26 or July 28, and will be in session for two weeks. Arrangements are being made for two camps of one week each, with some of the participants remaining for the entire two weeks. There will be eight leaders for every 50 girls.

EXPECT 1000 H. S. STUDENTS AT J. C. EVENT

Approximately 1000 Orange county high school students will attend the eighth annual Fiesta Day program at Santa Ana Junior college next Friday according to Thomas H. Glenn, faculty advisor of the fiesta committee. Seniors will be excused by the various high schools to attend the yearly event.

The seniors will be guests at the afternoon program in the arena, which will be conducted on a tour of the campus, and will attend the dinner, dance and annual play in the evening.

The program will feature Dr. Owen C. Coy, professor of history at the University of Southern California and author of books on California history; Carl Wheat, Los Angeles attorney and director of the California Historical society; Father Owen of the Santa Barbara Mission, and the Mexican players from the Little Theater of Padua Hills.

Frank Nieman's orchestra of Laguna Beach will play for the dance which will be held in the Legion hall, Third and Birch streets.

Harriet Abrams and John Henderson will be featured in the Fiesta play, "Smilin' Through" at the Willard auditorium, 1620 North Ross street.

More than 800 high school students were guests last year at the junior college Fiesta.

There were 646 municipal and 584 commercial airports in the United States as of September 1, 1934.

A foreign trade resolution, which urged that the government's reciprocal trade program be encouraged, was challenged by Rep. Harold Knutson, St. Cloud, Minn., who moved that the resolution be tabled until next year. It was passed over his protest.

Francis E. Powell, head of the American Chamber of Commerce in London, brought the question of the chamber's relations to the floor with a statement that he was "very much disturbed" to learn that the chamber had not received a message of greeting from President Roosevelt.

"Cannot something be done to explain to the president that we are not against him" he asked.

President Henry I. Harriman, in the chair, ruled that he was out of order and Dr. Gephart continued his reading of resolutions for adoption.

DEFER ACTION ON ACCEPTING SHOP BUILDING

After inspecting the new Lathrop shop building, just completed, the Santa Ana board of education yesterday decided that before accepting the structure from the contractor, they would confer on several details of it with Doyt Early, representative of the state board of public building reconstruction.

One matter to be discussed, it was stated, was the local board's feeling that the state board should properly be the first to accept the building, the local board then concurring.

Award Contract
The contract for constructing wire fence about the new tennis courts at Lathrop school was awarded yesterday to Van Dien-Young company, of Santa Ana, on a bid of $935. The bid had been under advisement for a week.

Santa Ana Junior college girls who have been going to Fullerton Junior college four times a week to take a bacteriology course, in connection with their local nursing course, must continue to pay their own transportation costs, it developed when Secretary George Newcom informed the board yesterday that the law provides no authority for paying transportation costs of Junior college students.

Transportation costs can be furnished high school or elementary students, but not to another district, he reported.

Some of the girls, the board had been informed last week, have been hitch-hiking to their classes in Fullerton.

RE-OPEN PROBE OF JUDGE CRATER CASE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 2.—(UP)—Authorities today questioned two suspects in the $130,000 Fall River, Mass., mail robbery in an effort to find a clue to the mysterious disappearance five years ago of Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Crater, of New York.

The pair, Ira Steele, brother-in-law of Carl Rittich, reputed "master mind" of the east's biggest criminal ring, and Herbert Hornstein, both of whom were said to have given investigators important evidence, meanwhile were guarded closely against gang reprisals.

Steele, who is free on $25,000 bail and Hornstein, who was arrested in Los Angeles, were said to be hiding in this state.

to reach a final decision on a tax program.

Severance Taxes
Members discussed severance taxes today, but opinions were so varied that they decided to pass the subject until later. Sen. W. E. Rich, Marysville, said he believed severance taxes were like nuisance taxes and Assemblyman Alfred W. Robertson, Santa Barbara, insisted all severance taxes would "go right back to the consumer."

Rich's motion to withdraw the subject from further consideration drew a sharp reply from Assemblyman Charles A. Hunt, Los Angeles, who demanded that severance taxes be studied exhaustively.

Rich withdrew his motion. The committee also delayed discussing an ad valorem tax. Senator Walter H. Duval, Santa Paula, chairman of the steering

FEDERAL AGENTS TO TELL ROBLES STORY

TUCSON, ARIZ., May 2.—(UP)—

Public announcement of "the story behind the Robles case" was promised by federal officials today as a grand jury met secretly to receive information in connection with the year-old kidnapping case.

"The case probably will be finished today," said Frank Flynn, U. S. district attorney for Arizona, "and then the story will be made public."

The government was expected to offer evidence seeking an indictment against Oscar H. Robson, former Arizona "play boy," in connection with an alleged $15,000 extortion letter.

After passing on various tax schemes, the committee plans by the process of elimination to arrive at a fundamental program which may win support in both houses.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Righteousness does not mean never blundering or failing; it means that your primary intention is to follow God's will. The peace, which God promised, does not involve escape from trial and hardship, but steady purpose and an enduring trust in your heart of hearts. Little by little those whose intentions are honest and whose endeavors are sincere attain to righteousness; those who triumph over doubt and fear are able to cover within themselves a quiet calm and a conquering confidence.

SUPPORT FOR SCOUT TRAINING BASE DEVELOPS

Possibility of the establishment of a regional Sea Scout base in southern California, to be located on Newport Harbor, became pronounced at a meeting of the Newport Harbor District Scout committee at Balboa last night attended by harbor scout workers, and Harrison White, county executive.

The establishment of the base would provide for a marine training school for Sea Scouts in the southern California counties, with an instructor and two training ships to be permanently located at Newport. Three thousand boys would benefit from the sea training program which would be initiated.

The move has gained the support of regional scout leaders and the state department of education, it was announced by Sea Scout Commander Byron Marshall. Working for the establishment of the base are Claude Pullen, Marshall, Henry Welch, Harry Williamson and others.

Recognition of rescue work done five years ago was made, when Henry Maunder, Negro Boy Scout of the beach city, was honored. Maunder will be given a national citation at an Orange county district scout meeting tonight at Camp Irvine, north of the entrance to Orange county park. The award is for a dramatic rescue of two persons drowning in the entrance to Newport Harbor five years ago. Discussion of the projected base for the Orange county harbor will be held at the county meet.

RELIEF BOARD APPROVES PLAN ON PARK WORK

A new project which provides for continuance of the comprehensive plan to further beautify Irvine Park was on its way to San Francisco today after it had been approved by local S.E.R.A. according to Director Terrence H. Halloran of the S.E.R.A.

S.E.R.A. will expend $50,550 in labor costs on the project, while the county of Orange, sponsor of the project, will spend $3450 for material and supervision. The project calls for 150 men to work in the park.

The work to be done under the project, which supplements a former project of the same nature, includes grading of roads, clearing out creek channels, planting of trees and other beautification and improvement work.

Nat H. Neff, county superintendent of roads, will be in charge of the project.

FORESTRY GROUP PLANS MOTOR TOUR

A motor cavalcade through the biways of Orange county will be sponsored by the Forest Protective association soon. It was decided at last night's meeting of the group. A record crowd will be sought to make the trip. W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, said.

The projected itinerary for the autocade will be past the CCC camps throughout the county, and will give all those making the journey an opportunity of viewing first hand the conservation work being done at this time.

It was pointed out that the forest fire danger season has started in Southern California, and campers, fishermen and motorists are urged to observe every caution while in the woods. The meeting closed with the showing of a film entitled "Trail Riders of the Wilderness."

FHA Survey Workers To Meet Friday

Second of a series of schools for S.E.R.A. workers who are in the field under the direction of the Federal Housing Administration to help promote activity in this section will be held in the Bulfinch Exchange building tomorrow morning starting at 9 o'clock. It was announced today by Wilbur Barr, chairman of the Santa Ana F.H.A. committee.

The class will be in charge of Mrs. Zella Oxart, supervisor for the project. Experts in the various phases of the housing industry will help instruct the workers for their work in the campaign to create better business conditions through stimulation of the construction and allied industries.

Wilbur Barr cautioned that the class tomorrow should not be confused with the school of instruction for material men, contractors, dealers, bankers and others directly interested in the program, to be held May 8 and 9 in La Casa Trabuco cafe.

Barr announced that the territory being included now in the program is all of Orange county, instead of just the southern part of the county. J. H. Berry, F.H.A. agent in charge of this territory, is supervising the work here and will speak at the meeting tomorrow.

The work now under way includes a continuance of the survey which resulted in securing 1300 prospects in Santa Ana alone who desired improvements amounting to more than a half-million dollars made. Excellent results are being obtained in the new phase of the program, it was reported.

DIME LETTER FAD SWEEPING CAMPUS

The faculty and students at Santa Ana High school have been struck by the "dime chain letter" mania.

It has been estimated that approximately 300 students have received letters. Many senders hand the letters personally to the recipient.

One student received a letter from Denver, the city in which the latest rage originated. He received his dime.

What's more, several local teachers have been the object of these letters, and it has left them with a bewildered expression.

ALPHA BETA TO GIVE BARGAINS IN FOOD SALE

One of the greatest food events ever presented to the people of Santa Ana will be staged tomorrow and Saturday in a combination event in which the Alpha Beta Food Markets at 318 West Fourth street, 302 East Fourth street and at 1502 West Fifth street and the Orange County Market, 1010 South Main street, will take part. It was announced today by A. W. Gerrard, who is in charge of the four big markets which from now on will be known as Gerrard's Alpha Beta Orange County Food Markets.

For the past two weeks the food markets have been laying in fresh supplies of merchandise in anticipation of the big event scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week. A unique feature of the sale is the provision made for parking the customer's car. A red cap will be stationed in front of each store and will take the car to a free parking station provided by the market company.

The grocery departments have the largest stock of merchandise on hand for the event that they have ever carried in their many years of service in Santa Ana. Customers from the rural territory of the county are invited to bring in eggs for which they will receive full Los Angeles market quotation.

Meat Specials
R. A. McCarthy, in charge of the meat department, announces a new feature in two distinct grades of meat, each of the finest in their respective class. All markets will carry the finest No. 1 steer beef, lamb, veal and pork and in addition will offer thrifty cuts of meat at very low prices. "More meat for less money," is the slogan of this added offering.

"The Alpha Beta Orange County Markets are well qualified to offer the best buys obtainable in meats," says McCarthy. "At the present time we have the largest herd of feeders now in Imperial Valley. The herd is composed of all steers recently purchased in Arizona and Texas."

Del Malstrom who has been in charge of the fruit and vegetable department of the store at 1010 South Main street, is now in charge of all fruit and vegetable departments in this city. Malstrom will personally do the purchasing of produce for his departments and will strive to give the best that money can buy to his patrons.

Thirty years ago the Gerrard Brothers opened a meat market in Santa Ana located in the 100 block on East Fourth street. In 1911 they occupied the building at the corner of Fourth and Broadway, moving later in 1916 to the location at 318 West Fourth street. This store was under the management of Hugh Gerrard until 1929 at which time it was necessary due to business expansion to leave and devote his time for the benefit of all the stores. Hugh, as he was known to his customers, will be back at his old post for the big event on Friday and Saturday in that store. Four of his children have graduated from Santa Ana High school and he resides with his family at his home on Victoria Drive.

kets in Santa Ana and is looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to again being on the floor greeting customers at his old stand on this Friday and Saturday.

The main office of the market concern is located in Gerrard Brothers building at the corner of Fourth and Broadway streets. Approximately 80 people are employed in Santa Ana with a payroll of well over $100,000 annually. Many of the employees are share holders in the firm and home owners in Santa Ana.

TWO CONVICTED ON CHARGE OF HORSE STEALING

Conviction of horse thieves—who used to be hanged for such an offense but now are merely sentenced to prison terms of not more than 10 years, took place late yesterday in superior court when Judge James L. Allen found two men guilty of stealing a team from K. Yamashita, Laguna Beach rancher.

Those convicted are Edwin Thatcher and Mark Malcom Hurlson, both of Los Angeles. The defendants did not apply for probation, and will be sentenced by Judge Allen tomorrow at 10 a. m.

The theft of the farmer's team took place last March 17, Thatcher and Hurlson allegedly aiding their employer, Ira Sprague Los Angeles horse dealer, who had sold the team to Yamashita in January. Sprague also was charged with grand theft, but, in the meantime, had been committed to the state asylum at Patton.

The theft was traced to Sprague's establishment by identification of a trailer tire, which had left an imprint in Yamashita's barnyard. Deputy Sheriff R. R. Lutes, investigating the theft, had made a cast of the tire imprint.

FORCES JOIN TO BACK BIG HOUSING SHOW

Plans for the great FHA housing exhibit to be held in Santa Ana June 5, 6 and 7 were proceeding rapidly this week, as merchants, builders, architects and business men of the city joined forces in support of the program.

Booths for all exhibitors desiring locations for the duration of the exhibit are being prepared, and will be installed in the American Legion hall. Thousands are expected to be attracted to the show, which will feature entertainment of all kinds in addition to the varied exhibits.

Arrangements are being conducted by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and local merchants, headed by Wilbur Barr. The Register is sponsoring the local exposition, as it believes the opportunity it will afford to investigate the worth of the Federal Housing Act and to see the work which is being done in building and allied trades within the county will prove invaluable.

This project, Barr said today, will unite all the interests hinging about the FHA in a tremendous display of materials, furnishings and utensils, together with a special effort to give all seekers after information every detail of how they may proceed to take advantage of the opportunities offered under the act.

Speakers of state and national renown will be enlisted for the three evenings of the exhibit, and musical entertainment and humorous features will be provided. It is planned to provide a large number of interesting and valuable door prizes, to be contributed by manufacturers and merchants.

Part of the plan will insure factual information on all products displayed by merchants and manufacturers, which in itself will prove most valuable to all parties concerned. "Without question," Barr said, "the program as contemplated will not only be beneficial to the people at large and the merchants who are dealing in supplies for the home, but with all these exhibits brought together on one floor, together with the information to be furnished, and the addresses to be given, it will be a fine educational enterprise."

Included on the committee in addition to Barr are Loren Moore, Ray Taylor, J. C. Horton, Fred Crowell, S. C. Russell, Earl Hawks, Thomson Means, Elmer Steffensen, Frederick H. Eley, John Knox and Kenneth Adams.

FINE PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR DAD, SON EVENT

The detailed program for the Y. M. C. A. father and son dinner which is to be held Friday evening was released today by Boys' Secretary D. H. Tibbals, who stated that reservations will be received this evening, but not later.

Any boy and father, desiring to attend, should telephone the Y. M. C. A. office, 36, this evening, in order to secure their places at the dinner, which is set for 6:30 tomorrow evening. Boys who are not members of the Y. M. C. A. may attend, with their fathers, provided their reservation is in by tonight.

R. Carson Smith, president of the local Y. M. C. A. will act as toastmaster. Elson Gaebe will welcome the fathers and E. H. Layton will respond. The Junior College trumpet quartet will furnish musical numbers. Don O. Rice, popular amateur prestidigitator, will speak on "Misdirection," and the address of the evening will be given by Judge H. G. Ames, who has promised to recount some of his experiences in connection with juvenile court work, proceeding on the idea that advice which is good for boys and their fathers after the boys have gone wrong might be good for them when no wrong has been done.

A committee of mothers will assist Mrs. Anna Noble, the house mother, in serving the dinner, and will remain to enjoy the program.

Local Briefs

A certificate of dissolution of the Firestone Service Stores, Inc. of Orange county, was filed with the county clerk today, showing that the corporation affairs have been closed, assets distributed and liabilities provided for.

RACE PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT BAPTIST MEET

Introduction by the Baptist Women's society, of Mrs. J. Kam-Machida as guest speaker yesterday afternoon in the church auditorium, attracted a large crowd for the event.

In her address, the speaker traced the progress of the first Chinese families called to California by their husbands and fathers, established here by business opportunities. The later opening of the doors to Japanese families were also traced. Difficulties besetting the succeeding generations were described, the speaker telling of the way her own interests were aroused when she experienced the difficulty of surrounding her own children with that culture and beautiful living that formed her ideals.

A plea for more respect and understanding on the part of Americans was voiced, that Oriental young people may assimilate high principles of this country with Oriental virtues. That mere trifles may create irritations that grow to huge proportions and make racial feelings was brought out, and the speaker closed a fascinating talk with the quotation, "Hate is not quelled by hate—by love alone 'tis quelled."

The Women's society paid a compliment to the guest speaker by arranging an Oriental setting for the rostrum. Carved furniture and beautiful hangings were used, and society members seated in the background wore costumes of the Orient. Mrs. Warren Brakeman, who presented the speaker, wore Chinese costume, and her co-worker, Mrs. J. W. Brown, was in Burmese dress. Also in the group were Mrs. W. A. Atkinson in Philippine costume; Miss Lula Minter, Miss Doris Whitaker, Mrs. Albert Hill and Mrs. Earl Morris, in those of Burma; Mrs. Oppen representing India and Mrs. J. Leslie Steffensen in Japanese costume. Mrs. Machida herself wore beautiful Chinese garments in blue and gold brocade.

There were 542 persons in the employ of American-operated air lines on July 1, 1934, of which 437 were pilots, 233 co-pilots, and 1339 mechanics.

HARMONY AND EFFICIENCY TO BE KEYNOTE OF S. A. POLICE DEPARTMENT; STRESS COURTESY

With necessary reorganization effected and the way cleared for closer cooperation than ever before, Santa Ana's police department entered into its work today with a new spirit following a get-together meeting of the personnel called by Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard.

Determined to bring about closer cooperation with citizens and other public agencies, and to stress the importance of the police force, the department is planning a program of public relations, and building up a program of police protection without equal in other cities of this size.

The public is entitled to courteous treatment at all times, Howard pointed out, and discourteous acts on the part of policemen will not be tolerated. He declared that neatness in appearance and unfailing courtesy are among the attributes of modern police work and the maximum service to the public for each member of the police force is a representative of the entire community and visitors to the city often judge the town by the conduct of members of its police force.

This program of courtesy is especially important now, the police chief pointed out, because thousands of tourists will be passing through Santa Ana this summer enroute to the Exposition at San Diego and many of them will remain to buy property and make their homes.

Santa Ana has a good police department, equal to any, the men were told by Councilman Plummer.

CHURCH ELECTS OFFICERS AT ANNUAL MEET

The annual church meeting of the First Church of the Nazarene, Fifth and Barton streets, was held at the church last night. The report by Hazel Newman, treasurer, showed the finances of the church in good condition.

J. L. Sharar was re-elected superintendent of the church school and the following were elected as members of the church board: trustees, W. A. Culbertson, D. P. Petroff and J. L. Sharar; stewards, J. V. Glenn, Elmer Ward, Mrs. Beulah Wilson, Hazel Newman and Lida Katz; church school board, Mrs. J. L. Sharar, Lester Shambaugh, N. E. Owen, Mrs. John Swofford and Mrs. Pennix.

Mrs. Sarah Shambaugh, Mrs. G. E. Waddle, Miss Norris Ward, Mrs. J. L. Sharar and Mrs. John Swofford were elected delegates to the district assembly which convenes at Pasadena First church June 4 to 9. Dr. R. T. Williams of Kansas City, Mo., will be the presiding general superintendent, and the Rev. Weaver W. Hess will be the entertaining pastor.

The Rev. G. E. Waddle, pastor of the local church has been called to serve the church for another year, closing a four-year call.

CHANGE PLAY DATE

ORANGE, May 2.—Originally set for May 10, the date of junior class play has been advanced to May 17 owing to the inability of a number of the cast to attend rehearsals during a recent epidemic of measles in the school. The play is a comedy entitled, "Billy."

DOMESTIC RELATIONS CASES INCREASE 65 PER CENT IN COURT HERE OVER YEAR AGO

Is it time to examine the foundations of our homes for divorce tremors? Or advise somebody to quit rocking the marital boat? Or congratulate the legal profession on returning prosperity?

Not only is litigation in general on the increase in Orange county, having shown a gain of nearly one-third so far this year, as compared to last year, but divorce in particular is on the rise, increasing about 65 per cent this year over last.

When Philadelphia Presbyterians' One out of every four law suits filed in superior court thus far this year has been a divorce, annulment or separate maintenance action, according to records in County Clerk J. M. Backs' office.

During the corresponding period last year, domestic relations cases formed 22 per cent of the total litigation. This year, the ratio has increased to 25 per cent of the total, despite the fact that total litigation has itself increased 31 per cent. To accomplish such a gain in ratio required a jump of 65 per cent in domestic relations cases.

During the first four months of 1934, there were 374 law suits filed in the court. Of this number 79 were divorce, annulment or separate maintenance actions. This year, up to May 1, there were 512 cases filed of all varieties. The domestic relations cases numbered 124.

To make matters worse, matrimony apparently is less attractive than before to those already in it, but likewise less alluring to those on the outside looking in. Marriage licenses have been fewer this year than last, the total to May 1 being 1153, as compared to 1272 for the same period last year.

As a remedy Clerk Backs has been trying to fix up a chain letter "send-a-wedding-ring" scheme.

BIG CLASS TO BE INITIATED BY K. OF C.

Santa Ana Knights of Columbus No. 1842 will play hosts to a huge gathering on Sunday May 5 when the major degrees of the order will be conferred on 60 candidates. Visiting members from all parts of the Southland will attend to see the largest class to be initiated in the history of the Santa Ana council.

The program will commence with all member and candidates attending mass at St. Joseph's church and receiving Holy Communion in a body, at the 7 o'clock mass.

The second degree work will start at 1 o'clock. This will be followed by the major degree commencing at 3:30 p. m. At 6:30 o'clock a dinner will be served at American Legion hall, with members and their wives and special guests attending.

The principal speaker will be the Hon. Joseph Scott, K. S. G. of Los Angeles, considered one of the finest orators in the country.

COLBERT FILM AT BROADWAY THEATER

Claudette Colbert, the most popular actress on the screen, comes to the screen of the Broadway theater today in her newest dramatic romance, "Private Worlds," a picture none will want to miss. Manager Lester J. Fountain said today.

With "Private Worlds" will show a second feature, "Eight Bells," an exciting tale of what happens on a perilous sea voyage when a beautiful debutante stows away on a dirty China-bound freighter. Ann Sothorn, Joan Buckler and Ralph Bellamy have the featured roles. The noted French star, Charles Boyer, with Joan Bennett, Helen Vinson and Joel McCrea head the supporting cast in "Private Worlds," which is adapted to the screen from the best-selling novel of the same name.

Miss Colbert is cast as a brilliant young psychiatrist who is skilled in probing the loves and hates that lie in the "private worlds" of other people's minds, but as naive in understanding her own secret thoughts as any child. The picture is hailed as one of the most dramatic romances which ever has shown here.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys are 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, setting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day, your body will take up these poisons causing various trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, a doctor's prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS, the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McIlburn Co.

NEWS OF WORLD SHOWN IN FILM

An interesting off-guard camera study of Europe's diplomats in action is included in the Register World News events which now are showing at the Broadway theater.

Other scenes of interest in the news pictures include the Aquitania being freed from a mud bank by a tug fleet; scientific twins showing results of experiment; 100 escaping death in a train wreck; fashions, topics of today, sport flashes, newswires and aviation.

FENTON NAMED AS ELKS LODGE RULER

Charles Fenton, Orange, last night was elected exalted ruler of the Orange B. P. O. E. at the annual election banquet of the Elks. Other officers elected were Otto Linnert, leading knight; Grant Goldschmidt, loyal knight; and B. J. Winn, lecturing knight. H. R. Perkins, former exalted ruler, was chosen to serve on the board of trustees. Installation of the new officers will be held at about June 1, it was announced. A large crowd was present for the banquet and meeting.

Change Made In Postal Rules On Circular Letters

Business firms in Santa Ana which use the mails to send out circular matter must change their policy to conform with new postal rulings which will go into effect on July 1, it was announced today by Assistant Postmaster Flake Smith.

Since March 15 it has been permitted to allow mailers to address circular material by city carrier routes without street or house designation. After July 1 the house number and street must be named on each letter mailed.

"Your dog can suffer from cheap 'scrap' foods"

Dog breeders warn against poorly balanced rations, say they can start dangerous ailments

WHY do specialists warn you against feeding scraps, waste products? Because they know such foods can starve a dog, break down his resistance.

They also ask you to be wary of many canned rations—where cost of the can, plus shipping carton and retail profit leave less than 1/3 of a cent per can to pay for actual food and its preparation.

Balto—all experts agree—is safe. It's one food tested and endorsed by a great university. Not a medicine, but a balanced health diet—the basis of which is whole, fresh-caught fish. Especially high in vitamin D and a rich source of every other needed food factor. Tell your grocer you want Balto tomorrow.

AUXILIARY DOG SHOW PLANS MAKE PROGRESS

Plans were virtually completed today for the American Legion Auxiliary dog show, to be held May 18 in the Hill building. The show, to be known as an "Exhibition of Orange County's Finest Dogs," will be for registered dogs or those eligible for registration. On the following week a show for dogs of lesser breed will be held. Leaders of the Auxiliary said today that they planned the exhibit to serve in part as a memorial to the many dogs who did valuable work during the world war. An estimated 10,000 dogs served during the progress of the war, many of them receiving decorations for their work.

Further purpose of the show is to raise sufficient funds for the staging of a regular Bradshaw midwinter A. K. C. show. Members pointed out that while this is not an official A. K. C. show, and entries will not receive official judging, there will be prizes awarded. Virtually all the entries will be from Orange county, with the exception of several rare breeds brought here for the duration of the show. Included in these breeds will be racing greyhounds, a Schipperke, or barge dog of Holland, and dogs trained to assist the blind.

Entries for the exhibition may be made at the Neal Sporting Goods Store, 269 East Fourth street, and with Mrs. Ralph Hoover, 911 Oak street, vice president of the Auxiliary.

The road leading to Pt. Loman highway, via Canon street, is closed, according to the National Automobile club. A newly aligned road is being built. Due for completion before the opening of the exposition on May 23.

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON

By Ira Bennett

President Roosevelt said very little in his radio talk that was not already anticipated by keenest observers among business men. They had already checked off the four billion spending account and hit upon the identity of most of the men upon whom President Roosevelt relies to do the jobs.

What interests industry most just now is the scope of the new NIRA. Will it give power to FDR to impose codes of fair competition? Will industry be compelled to concede more advantages to organized labor? Will the new act persist in trying to regulate business that is purely within a state?

The answer seems to be "Yes" to each question.

SUBPOENA

Matters are shaping up for a stiff fight over the revamping of Section 7a. President Roosevelt has been very cautious in committing himself on labor questions recently, but it's learned that he is anxious about threatened strikes and is disposed to ask Congress to embody in the new NIRA a distinct provision enabling workers to choose their own representatives for collective bargaining. In order to accomplish this an impartial body must have access to payrolls to determine who the workers are. In his factory towns it is impossible to hold elections of workers satisfactory unless each man can be identified. The workers are as shrewd as the managers in electioneering methods.

In NIRA or in the Wagner bill, Congress prefers, it is expected that the administration will ask that power be conferred upon a suitable authority to subpoena payrolls and conduct workers elections.

BLOCKERS

In spite of Donald Richberg's guarded language in which he intimated that the new NIRA should be confined to purely interstate business the new bill attempts to evade intrastate business. This is proposed on the ground that some such businesses affect interstate commerce—and the decision is to be left to the new NRA.

With these three great dangers hanging over them the spokesmen of big business are urging Senators to stall along on the new bill until the Supreme Court has passed upon the present act. An adverse decision would practically compel Congress to revise the new bill.

If the bill should reach the floor the debate could be carried on indefinitely by opponents of the provisions which are claimed to permit monopoly and restraint of trade. To these critics should be added political antagonists of President Roosevelt, who stand ready to block anything he wants to the extent of their power.

WEANER

World War veterans are on the anxious seat. They see signs that they are to be sold down the river. The turn taken by the Senate finance committee causes veterans to believe that Senator Harrison has an understanding with President Roosevelt by which a bill unsatisfactory to veterans, but giving them some cash, will be put through.

A significant feature of the newly revised bill is that it authorizes the President to pay veterans out of the work-relief fund. That sounds good, but veterans insist that the cash they would get is not as much as they are entitled to and that if they accepted it they would be stopped from claiming the balance.

The House proved its bonus position. It was ready to fight Roosevelt on the issue. Veterans now say they will ask the House to knock the stuffing out of the Harrison bill if it should pass the Senate. Their greatest fear is that the president will send for House members and wean them away from the Patman bill.

CASH

Another way of meeting the threat of the Harrison bill is to substitute the Vinson bill, which the House turned down in favor of the Patman bill. Senate friends of veterans are planning to force the Vinson substitute to a vote. This bill proposes to pay veterans full cash claims, passing to the government the buck of finding the money.

Passage of the Vinson bill by the Senate might induce the House to accept it, especially if a provision is inserted authorizing the president to use work-relief funds for bonus payments.

EFFECTIVE

Now that the anti-lynching bill is getting out of the way it's dawning upon administration leaders that this bill ate up valuable time—and was meant to do so. One or two other bills are now being pushed forward as obstacles to too-hasty action on vital bills like NRA and AAA.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas sometimes has a hard time explaining to President Roosevelt just why administration bills are slowed up. FDR knows that underground opposition from Jeffersonian Democrats is queering his program, but it's another thing to bring this opposition to the open and give it a tanning before the public gaze. Roosevelt doesn't want the country to get the idea that Democrats are fighting among themselves.

Republicans are doing what they can to block FDR, but they can't do much. Democrats can do more, and they are doing it.

AMERICANS

In some northwestern states the settlers are up against a big Indian population that needs schools. The Indian kids go to white schools—and the Indians are multiplying, not diminishing. The white people are taxed and the Indians are not.

Now the work-relief act will allow construction of Indian schools in a big way. Commissioner Collier has been promised a slice of the four billion. His blue-prints have been ready for a year.

Whites and Indians in need of relief will be employed on these schools and their accessories, including roads.

NOTES

Read-building plans are the most advanced of all work-relief measures and can give relief work more extensively on short notice. Roosevelt is permitting some of his friends to test out public sentiment on a permanent public works program to follow work-relief. Boss Ickes is enthusiastic over the plan. House foes of Ickes are trying to find some way of getting rid of him—but they'll see more of him than ever.

Morgenthau's plan to pay the bonus by inheritance taxes—gives a bonus without a tax. Union laborites all over the country are watching wage developments in work-relief operations.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

BARGAIN

Consolidated Gas doesn't appear to be nearly as hard pressed as it was a couple of months ago. The threat of a competing municipal power plant has pretty well faded out. Legislative committees have quit riding it and federal pressure has relaxed as a sequel to an understanding on rates to federal agencies in New York City. Yet now it suddenly retreats on all fronts—abandoning application for a rate increase, lowering gas rates in the city, applying for a cheaper electric schedule in Westchester and indicating that it seriously intends to give New York electric consumers a break.

How come this abrupt form reversal? Insiders say it's because the company is playing for big stakes. With federal regulation in the offing—even if much milder than the Wheeler-Rayburn bill—it begins to look as if virtue will pay good dividends. Presumably those who practice voluntary virtue will be given more gracious consideration by the regulating authorities than those on whom reform is forced.

This might be quite important to a group which hopes not only to survive but to expand by the inexpensive acquisition of neighboring properties from concerns which may overlook the precaution of getting in right with teacher. Moreover the little matter of the rate base—estimated as about 40 per cent too high by the New York power commission—isn't mentioned by Con Gas in connection with its proposed concessions. Shrewd observers remark that even drastic rate cuts would be a cheap price to pay to get the present base accepted without further argument.

SELECTIVE

There are curious angles to the recent stock market rise. 25 stocks of outstanding companies account for about 80 per cent of the advance. A majority of listed industrials have moved very little if at all.

The point is that the favored 25 are nearly all corporations which have maintained a good earnings record all through the depression and are paying satisfactory dividends. Recent buyings—except in the silver stocks—has been on the basis of investment yield, not on the chances of speculative appreciation.

The general impression that a broad bull movement has started isn't justified. It's rather a case where stocks of firmly established companies are being purchased in preference to bonds with shrinking yields. The market has seldom been so selective.

OFFSET

Informed New Yorkers see a subtle motive behind the government's silver policy besides its political value in binding the silver senators to FDR's chariot. They call it a timely shot in the arm to the stock market which will help to keep recovery sentiment alive and kicking while the four billion dollar spending is getting under way.

A buoyant stock market has a special psychological value at the moment. Governor Lehman's approval of the state unemployment insurance bill—which calls for heavy payroll taxes on New York employers—would be a serious depressant to New York business if it were allowed to brood about it undistracted. But market pep is an effective antidote for the gloom that would otherwise spread—and helps business to realize it has ample time to make needed adjustments before the tax goes into operation.

The silver stimulation gives the public a chance to see that things are really stirring. The market is still generally accepted as a reasonably accurate barometer of conditions. The resulting boost to public morale is rated a practical way of offsetting the psychological ravages of a summer slump.

SWELL

No one can accuse the Mexican government of being slow on the uptake. It lost no time spotting a bonanza in the rise of world silver prices. A law was speedily enacted imposing a 50 per cent tax on every penny above 65 cents an ounce for which silver mined in Mexico is sold. That means 5 cents an ounce when the price is 75 cents. The Mexicans have their eye on the future too. The tax jumps to 75 per cent on the excess price above a dollar an ounce.

This is a great help to Mexico's budget and should also bring relief to its other taxpayers when the metal price goes a bit higher. Small wonder that Mexicans think our silver policy is simply swell.

JOINT

Informed New Yorkers agree with Goldthwaite Dorr—head of the Cotton Textile Institute—when he says that textile over-production could be ended by scrapping antiquated factory equipment.

Experts insist the New England mills are up against it chiefly because their machinery is prehistoric. The Japanese competition they dread so keenly is thoroughly modernized. The worst of it is that the New Englanders can't bring their factories up to date because they have nothing to use for money.

Many other industries besides textiles are operating under the handicap of obsolescence. A number of business leaders are trying to attract Washington's attention to this problem. Most companies which need to modernize can't command the necessary credit. Key officials are being told that joint action by the government and industry to finance factory renovation would be one of the most valuable contributions to recovery they could make.

CHIEF

Harper Sibley will be the new chief of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce—succeeding Henry L. Harriman. It's understood that in general he will follow Harriman's policy of moderation and compromise. However, he has an agricultural background and is more likely to register strenuous objections to the AAA than his predecessor.

HIRE

The wave of corporate refinancing is a godsend to lawyers, accountants and investment bankers—many of whom are busy for the first time in years. There's so much work to be done that a lot of them are burning the midnight oil.

So far they have preferred late hours to staff expansion. Comment runs that if this sort of thing keeps up they have to weaken and hire a hand or two.

BILL PROVIDES FOR CITIES TO GET GAS TAXES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 2. — (UP)—California cities have stood quietly by for 10 years while all but one-fourth cent of the three-cent gasoline tax has been used for state and county highway construction.

Now with a bill by Senator W. F. Knowland of Alameda, they are prepared to demand what they consider a just share of tax receipts. The Knowland bill increases their apportionment from one-fourth to one-half cent, on a population basis. The counties would continue to receive one cent, with the state's share reduced to one and one-half cent.

During previous years, the cities have been content to watch the virtual completion of the "farm-to-market" road program. It was felt that improvement of these arterials would be realized in better business conditions.

However, because of increased difficulty in levying assessments and collecting taxes and the increased cost of maintenance of city streets, municipalities are demanding state aid to which they claim they are justly entitled. It appears that their demands may be granted, according to observers.

Under the present act, cities receive one-quarter cent to be spent first for improvement of state highway routes within cities. The apportionment totals approximately $3,000,000. This allocation will be doubled to permit expenditure of the additional $3,000,000 for improvement and maintenance of major city traffic thoroughfares other than state highways.

It is also provided under terms of the bill that the state department of public works will assume financial responsibility for state highway routes within cities in the matter of maintenance and construction.

Proponents of the measure argue that 42 per cent of the traffic in cities; that because the major proportion of motorist gasoline taxpayers are within cities there is no reason why municipalities should not have a greater share of the fund.

Cities spend approximately $9,000,000 yearly for maintenance of streets, it was pointed out, while under terms of the proposed act they receive only $6,000,000.

Passage of the bill would aid greatly in the reduction of ad valorem taxes in streets, sponsors said.

NEW LA HABRA CITY HALL IS OCCUPIED

LA HABRA, May 2.—La Habra city officials took up their duties yesterday morning in the new city hall, which has just been completed at a cost of approximately $15,000. The building is a one story stucco building, built mission style, with the offices facing around a courtyard. The council chamber, which is also to be used as a court room, is 22 by 40 feet, with high beamed ceiling.

This is the third building completed on property comprising the civic center. A modern stucco fire station was completed on the rear of this property about three years ago. The Memorial hall, which houses the American and auxiliary, was completed and dedicated in December, 1934. There is a lot reserved for the erection of a public library, plans for which already have been discussed.

At a recent meeting of the city council plans were discussed for a formal opening of the new building, but it was decided to wait until all was completed and all offices arranged before setting this date.

AVOCADO MEN HAPPY OVER HEAVY SALES

Orange county avocado growers were jubilant today over the fact that a grand total of 10,273,000 pounds of calavos and avocados have been marketed by the Calavo Growers association to May 1, or during 60 per cent of the present shipping season, according to Orange county grower-leaders of the association.

This total is about five times the heaviest tonnage ever previously handled during a similar period. This season's crop to date equals the combined crops of the first nine years' existence of this grower organization, which has marketed 11 full crops.

Tonnages actually handled to date this season are within about three per cent of the pre-season estimates, made last summer, the growers also reported.

The Calavo newspaper advertising program in the east has materially assisted in selling about eight times more calavos there this season than last, thereby lessening supplies on local markets, it was announced.

It was announced today that avocado growers of the county are cordially invited to the open house inspection of the new San Diego county packing house of the Calavo Growers of California, located at Vista, on May 11 and 12.

This, and the main Calavo plant in Los Angeles, are the only grower-owned avocado packing houses in California. This new Vista plant has handled more than 4,000,000 pounds of calavos to date this season.

EXCELSIOR CO. BUYS SITE FOR LAGUNA PLANT

LAGUNA BEACH, May 2.—Continued real estate activity involving the acquisition of a building site for a new distribution plant for the Excelsior Creamery company on Forest avenue, and the sale of several homes and residence sites to prominent out-of-town people was revealed today at the offices of the Fred Leach Real Estate company, which concern handled the deals.

The building site secured by the Excelsior Creamery company, measuring 75 by 100 feet, is located at the corner of Beach street and Forest avenue. Officials of the creamery concern were down here yesterday to close the real estate transaction and to make arrangements for immediate construction of a new distribution plant, the extension being necessitated by an increasing volume of business, it was stated.

Transactions dealing with residence property was headed by a deal whereby B. O. Miller, Los Angeles capitalist and vice president of the W. I. Hollingsworth company, acquired a large residence site on High drive at the end of Aster street. It was reported that the new owner expects to build in the near future. Other deals included the sale of a choice lot on Ocean front to R. E. Hill, prominent Southland oil operator and an executive of the Magnet Oil company, and of a house and lot on the cliffs to L. A. Walker, retired business man of Providence, R. I.

A residence lot located on St. Ann's drive was sold to Hugh Thomas, Los Angeles broker connected with the E. L. Hutton company. Another sale was that of a house and two lots on High drive to Mr. and Mrs. R. Peden, of Altadena. Additional sales during the month of April included a house and lot at Arch Beach to K. L. Miller of Pasadena; a lot on Cypress street to Miss Sophia Berry, assistant superintendent of the Los Angeles Orthopedic hospital; and a lot on Graceland to Angeline Mauvezen, deputy city clerk of Los Angeles.

PIONEER OF MISSION WORK IN CHINA DIES

Mrs. Lucy Jackson Whiting, 86, pioneer Presbyterian missionary to China, and a resident of Santa Ana for the last 17 years, was summoned by death yesterday at her home, 506 East Chestnut street, after a long life of service in religious and welfare fields.

As a minister's wife she saw stirring adventure and sterling service in the Orient during the last century and at the turn of the present century, spending more than 40 years of her life in spreading the gospel through China.

In 1869 she married the Rev. Joseph L. Whiting and went with him to the other side of the world, with the first group of missionaries to cross this country on the newly completed trans-continental railroad, and to cross the Pacific ocean by steamship instead of sailing vessel.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, January 2, 1849, she had attended Oberlin Conservatory of Music before her marriage and was an accomplished musician.

In China, Dr. and Mrs. Whiting worked under the Presbyterian board of missions and gave over 40 years of service in Peking, leaving the capital city, however, for brief occasions to open new mission stations in Pootungfu and Shantung. Mrs. Whiting's work was largely with the Girls' Boarding school in Peking, but she started the industrial work for needy Chinese women, teaching them to read and study the Bible while they earned a meager living through the making of cross-stitch work and hand embroideries.

It was also her initiative that founded the Home for Destitute Old Women, which was the first example of cooperative charity among the various foreign groups in Peking.

After a long and intensely active career, Mrs. Whiting retired from the mission field upon the death of her husband in 1906. She has since lived with her daughter, Miss Mabel Whiting, and the two came to Santa Ana in 1918. Later, another daughter, Mrs. Edith Thatcher, came to make her home with them and five years ago a sister, Mrs. Alberta Husted, joined the household. A brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jackson, live in a neighboring home. Another brother, S. Everett Jackson, lives in Portland, Oregon.

Mrs. Whiting has had eight children, five of whom were buried on the foreign field. Only two daughters are living. She has five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Whiting was regarded as a woman of great nobility of character and uplifting influence. She was deeply beloved by a wide circle of friends on both sides of the world.

Teamster In Old Circus Reminisces

By MARAH ADAMS

These are the days when circuses already have moved from winter quarters and have started on their summer treks across the continent and these are the days when memories of the circus most strongly assail Tom Kelley, traveling teamster of many famous aggregations and now restless wanderer on the face of the earth.

Yesterday Tom Kelley, who now has attained the three score years and ten accorded man by the Scriptures, sat on a bench in the Orange plaza where he scanned with dim eyes the pages of the "Billboard", that gazetteer of the showman of circus, stage or carnival, no matter how lowly his position may be or have been. Routes of circuses with which he once traveled he read carefully, one ridged finger nail following the fine print as he peered through glasses obviously purchased at the five and ten.

"I'm getting old," said Tom Kelley, "I'm going out with the horses. There's no use any more in the world for horses and not much more use for me. Yes, I expect that some kinds of horses be comin' back, but not the kind I use to drive, eight and sometimes ten, bringing in the show in the red of early mornings when the bulls was pulling or maybe pushing the wagon on the lot from the train and the big tent was flat on the ground waiting to rise like a big kind of mushroom."

"I started out with Adam Forepaugh, in 1882 and I was with P. T. Barnum in Madison Square Garden in 1891. There was two real men. Nice to everyone on the place. Did I ever hear anyone call 'Hey, Rube'? See that scar?" The old teamster pointed to a wide white welt across his right hand. "That's what I got in Montreal in the worst fight I ever did see on a circus lot." A smile lighted Tom Kelley's face at the recollection of those stirring times.

"Some hoodlums started to cut the guy ropes and the first thing we knew all the circus folks was hollerin' 'Hey Rube,' at the top of their lungs. Tent pins and anything else handy was being used to drive off the gang and there was a plenty of broken hands and heads at the end of that fight."

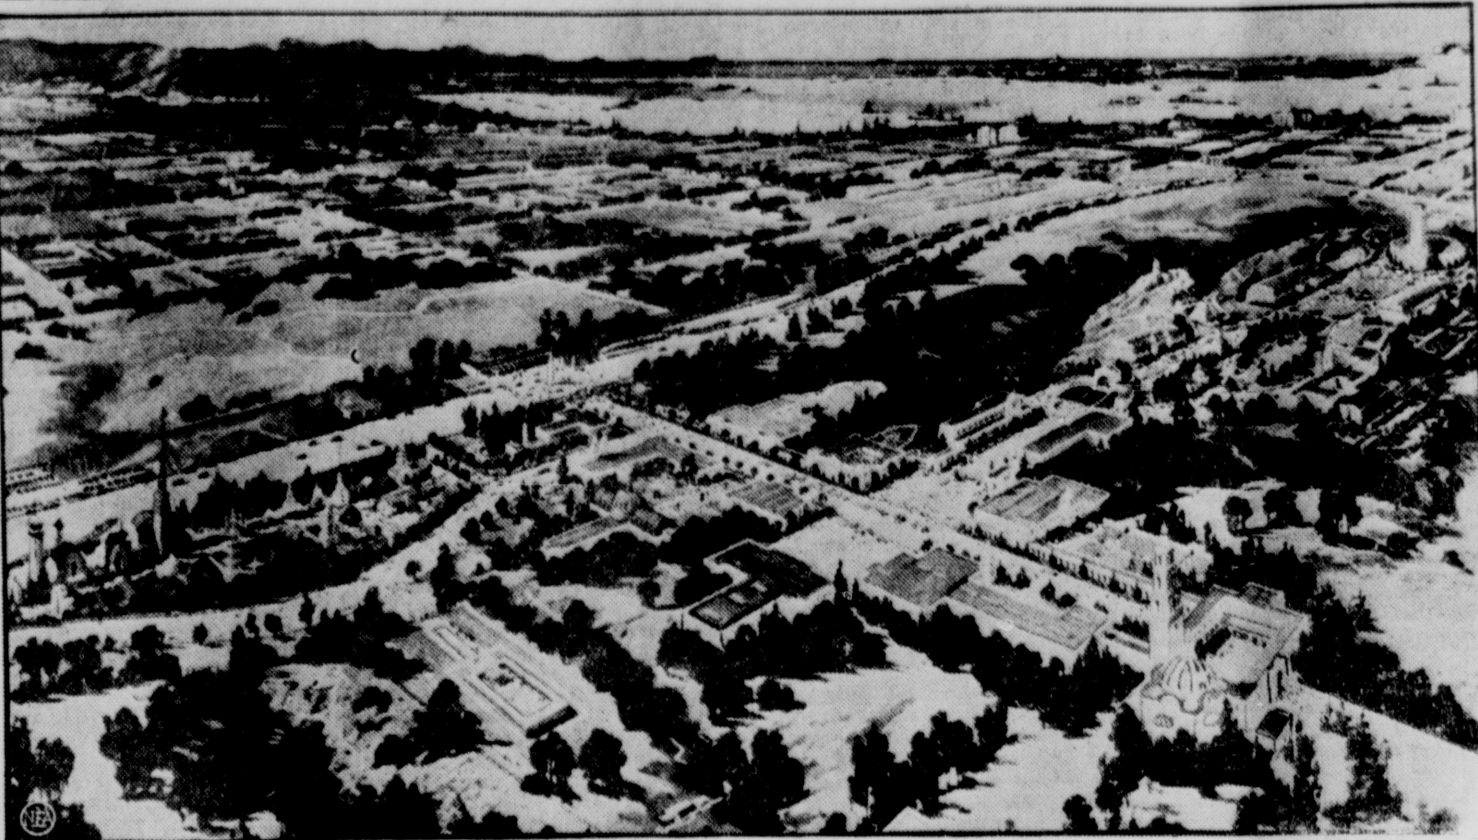

"It was a bad day when John Ringling took the parade out of the circus in 1919, don't seem the same somehow—'Course they got horses yet—horses and dogs—animals almost human, all but speaking. But they can do that with their eyes."

Tom Kelley turned the pages of the Billboard until he came to the page entitled "The Final Curtain". Might be some of my old friends in there," he said sadly.

On his way to San Diego from the great country of Nowhere. No one in all the world to care if he comes or goes. But the good shoes with their sturdy soles, the well shaven appearance, are evidences that not all the money Tom Kelley

GRAPHIC PANORAMA OF SAN DIEGO EXPOSITION

The latest thing in world affairs, the California Pacific International Exposition, to be held in San Diego this summer and fall, is pictured below in a sketch by Juan Larrinaga, chief designer, and gives a graphic picture of the exposition, now nearing completion in Balboa Park. It is to this glamorous scene that The Register will send readers who obtain four subscriptions to the Santa Ana Register for a glorious day on Orange County Day, May 31. In the left foreground is part of the 200-acre Zoological Gardens, one of America's finest; above this the amusement zone and Spanish Village. Through the center runs the Avenue of Palaces, containing the exhibit palaces in Spanish Renaissance motif. Further to the right are exhibit palaces of industrial firms, California and the Federal government, together with the palaces of education, electricity, transportation and the Motion Picture Hall of Fame. Beyond the exposition area are downtown San Diego, the San Diego harbor, Point Loma, Coronado Island and the Pacific Ocean.

MAY FESTIVAL AT JEFFERSON SCHOOL FRIDAY

Tomorrow will be a gala day at Jefferson school, when the annual May Festival is held on the school grounds. It was announced today by Mrs. Malcolm Macurda, president of the Jefferson P-T. A., which is sponsoring the event to raise funds for P-T. A. work in the school.

The event will start at 3 p. m. tomorrow on the school grounds, Seventeenth and Ross streets, and will continue through until 9 p. m. Features of the program planned include a colorful May pole dance to be given by school children late in the afternoon and a musical program by students at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Hugh Gerrard is in charge of the event.

Home-made candies, cooked foods, lemonade and pop, needlework, ice cream, hot dogs, sandwiches and coffee will be available on the grounds so that those who desire can eat there and take in the whole show.

Entertainment features of the event are many, including a fish pond, pony rides, a side show with a wild man, strong man, swimming match, quintuplets, baseball pitcher, white elephant booth, etc.

All sorts of games will be there, including a miniature golf course.

"I SUFFERED WITH CONSTIPATION* FOR SIXTEEN YEARS"

Then ALL-BRAN Brought Relief to Mr. McNeil

We quote from his unsolicited letter: "I suffered with constipation* for 16 years. Finally, I started using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in connection with other nourishing foods.

"I consider myself a well man at this time, not having had an attack for over two years. I am sure ALL-BRAN helped wonderfully by overcoming constipation*."—Mr. L. M. McNeil, Lockwood, W. Va.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides gentle "bulk" to aid elimination. Also vitamin B and iron. This "bulk" resists digestion better than the fiber in fruits and vegetables, so it is more effective. ALL-BRAN continues to get results when used for months.

Isn't this food safer than risking patent medicines? Two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. If seriously constipated, use with each meal. See your doctor, if you do not get relief.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WOMAN SAYS "YOU CAN'T HOLD ME IN JAIL," BUT JUDGE DOES

"You can't hold me in jail here, judge. Why, you just married me a couple of years ago."

So spoke Mrs. Chloe Nunn recently to Justice of the Peace K. E. Morrison, after Mrs. Nunn had been arrested on a charge of drunk driving.

But justice must run its course, and Mrs. Nunn was held for preliminary examination, which was begun this morning in the local justice court.

Deputy Sheriff James Musick testified to his arrest of the prisoner after she had almost struck his own car as he turned into his driveway. Previously Mrs. Nunn had eluded capture at El Modena.

At the request of Z. B. West jr., attorney for Mrs. Nunn, the examination was continued to May 8 at 9 a. m.

Historical Discovery At Mission

New discoveries of work done by Indians and padres of the old San Juan Capistrano mission more than 10 years ago are expected to shed much light on the early history of Southern California.

The ancient masonry work, consisting of water conduits and old tile walls, was discovered by workmen excavating for a new water line, not more than two feet under the surface, and just east of the patio garden.

The conduit is supposed to have brought water to the mission in the early nineteenth century from the mission dam built up Mission canyon. No explanation has been vouchsafed as yet for the old tile

People Like Plan To See Fair Gratis

How would residents of Orange county like to spend a thrill-crammed day at the great California Pacific International Exposition without a cent of cost as the guest of The Register?

They'd like to, and how! More enthusiasm was evidenced throughout the county in the announcement made that The Register plans to send readers to the great fair without cost than in any other similar plan ever advanced by a local newspaper, Circulation Manager R. M. Conklin said today.

From all parts of Orange county came requests for subscription blanks and for more and more information on how the plan, almost too good to be true, works out.

It's a simple plan. Everyone in Orange county who wants to go to the fair can do so without spending a red cent. All you need to do is to get four friends, who now are not subscribers of The Register, to subscribe for two months. As easy as that!

You don't need to collect a cent on the four subscriptions, and as soon as your orders are verified you will be given your guest tickets which will entitle you to travel to the great exposition on The Register's special train, have a fine lunch and dinner bought for you, be transported to the exposition grounds in magnificent Balboa park, and admitted to various concessions.

The Register's special train will leave at 7 a. m. on Friday, May 31, returning at 9 p. m. You have until that time to get your four subscriptions and be all set for the grandest day of your life—without costing you a dime.

Wall uncovered nearby, although Father Hutchinson said he hoped it would prove to be part of a balcony supposed to have been built nearby.

Ramon Yorba, 77-year-old worker, who has lived about the mission since he was a child, was as much at sea about the discoveries as any one, and said he could not recall ever having seen either the intake or the wall in his youth.

ENGINEER SAYS 43 PER CENT OF WORK FINISHED

A possibility that all dredging work in Newport Harbor would be completed by the first of October was seen today with the announcement by Capt. C. E. Cruze, government engineer in charge of operations, that 1,100,000 cubic yards of sand and material had been removed from the bay during the past 30 days.

Exactly 43 per cent of the work of the vast government-Orange project has been completed, Cruze said, a total of 3,500,000 cubic yards of sand, silt and ledge rock having been removed by the three dredgers at work within the bay, since the project was started in January.

Work of the Standard Dredging company, responsible for dredging west of the pavilion at Balboa, is approximately 50 per cent completed, and is expected to be completely done by the middle of August. Work of the San Francisco Bridge company, located east of the pavilion, is expected to last about two months longer. The San Francisco outfit has run into very difficult work which has delayed them considerably. It was explained, as they have been forced to do a great deal of blasting to remove ledge rock.

The San Pablo, government hopper dredge at work in the harbor entrance, will probably be busy there until July 20, it was said today. The dredger has removed approximately 60,000 cubic yards of sand since taking up its position a month ago, representing about 15 days' work, as the San Pablo was laid up for repairs for about two weeks.

All work being done by Rohlf-Connolly and company on the jetty extensions at the entrance has been suspended while the San Pablo is operating there, in order to keep the channel open for traffic. Placing of rock on both jetties will be resumed in July.

When the improvement program is completed the new harbor will be 10 feet deep over all at low tide, with channels 20 feet deep. The entrance channel will be 500 feet wide, and 35 feet deep, and the jetties will extend approximately 1000 feet further to sea.

4000 Present For Dedication Of New Stadium

DR. WOELLNER GIVES ADDRESS AT HIGH SCHOOL

ORANGE, May 2.—Over 4000 persons were present for the dedication of the new Orange union high school stadium yesterday afternoon. The dedication was a part of the annual May day celebration which opened with a parade in the morning.

The principal speaker was Dr. Frederick P. Woellner of the University of California at Los Angeles. "America is independent of the rest of the world and if other nations want to fight let them fight and raise their own armies. We will raise ours," declared the speaker. "Russia today is aiming to reach levels established by America and America is better off in depression than other nations of the world in prosperity."

The program opened with the entry of 300 high school girls in attractive costumes. Dances were presented by the group at intervals and they were directed by Miss Helen Culp and Miss Grace Robertson. The entire audience gave the salute to the flag at a flag raising ceremony conducted by Company I of the national guard, with Capt. A. L. Wunderlich as commanding officer. The S.E.R.A. band with Eddie Kline as leader furnished music. The combined glee club of the school under the direction of Percy Green gave two numbers.

An exhibition of tumbling was given by Harold Newell, George Cameron, Bob DeVilliers, Bill Vechold, Miles Calvert, Bill Boehlert, Vincent De Georgelo, Emil Sady and J. Lerrick of the University of Southern California. An exhibition of archery was given by Enola Campbell and Myra Campbell and of fencing by John and Bob Weber.

Ivan Swanger, president of the chamber of commerce, acted as master of ceremonies, and those occupying seats of honor on the speakers' platform were Ray Adkinson, Dr. Margaret Baker and Frank Henderson of Santa Ana. L. W. Evans, president of the school board, and A. Haven Smith, principal of the school, H. E. Chamber and Stewart N. White, coaches. Clowns featured were Thomas Richardson and Walter Workman. A hockey game between senior and junior girls teams resulted in a victory for the juniors by two goals.

During the afternoon a puppet show was staged in the Watson Drug store by Miss Mary Bowyer of the children's department of the Santa Ana library. Miss Doris Bowyer and Miss Jean Gaspar of Orange operated the puppets in two plays, "The Minuet" and "Spring Fever." Windows of stores were attractively decorated and many striking costumes were seen on the streets.

Several thousand were present at the street dance at night and at the dance given at the American Legion clubhouse.

Do You Use Mayonnaise in Any of These Ways?

A few spoonfuls of mayonnaise will convert the usual cream sauce into a sauce de luxe.

Try mayonnaise in mashed potato; mash as usual, add as much mayonnaise as you would milk, and whip until creamily smooth. Left-over plain spaghetti or macaroni may be converted into a luscious Italian-style dish by cooking a bit of shredded green pepper in half of a can of tomato soup, add spaghetti, and enough mayonnaise to give richness and flavor. Crumb top and bake in a fast oven just long enough to brown.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Cabbage-Oriental Style
3-pound head of cabbage
1 pound boneless lamb stew or same amount of beef
2 medium-sized onions, sliced
Salt and pepper

2 large sliced tomatoes, or 1 can tomato soup
1 cup broth or soup stock
1 Strip of outside leaves of cabbage, quarter and shred fine. Cut the meat in tiny squares, chop onions fine. Arrange cabbage, meat and onions in layers, seasoning each layer to taste. Pour the can of tomato soup over top, then the hot broth. Cover, stand on an asbestos pad and simmer very slowly for at least 2 hours. (A sauce pan is your cooking utensil.)

This dish will serve six. The individual calory value of portions is approximately 245. This dish is low in fat-forming elements, consequently a good dish for the over-weight.

Keep This Idea for Currant-Jelly Time

Most every woman makes her own maraschino cherries these days, but it took one woman with an enquiring turn of mind to utilize the excess maraschino cherry syrup:

For the cherry syrup use 1 cup liquid to 3 cups sugar. This provides an extremely rich syrup. To each cup of this syrup add 1 cup strained cooked red currant juice, bring to a full rolling boil, test carefully, and turn into clean hot glasses as soon as the liquid starts to jelly.

My informant told me that the liquid jellied almost as soon as it reached the boiling point, that the flavor and color were unusually delicious.

Never cook currants with a lot of water if you want good jelly. Wash currants, strip from big stems, crush fruits, and bring to

HOBBY SHOW SPONSORED BY SERVICE CLUB

ORANGE, May 2.—Wishing to encourage the development of diversions among young people of the community, members of the Orange Rotary club sponsored an interesting hobby show Wednesday in the new stadium of the Orange Union High school.

Twenty-five separate exhibits, covering subjects ranging from miniature model airplanes, "Flapper Fanny" cartoons to an interesting chemistry display, were included in the hobby show. Harold Stahley, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Stahley was awarded a ribbon of merit for his entry of a number of model airplanes, ships and automobiles carved from wood. First prize for the best coin collection was won by R. Calvin Backes, while Marvin Estes won second place. A chemical garden, a lead tree and a patriotic test tube were included in the chemical display by Billy Shippee, while Philip Postefor entered hand made chemical equipment.

Perhaps the most unusual hobby on display was a scrap book made by Felix Henry, 13-year-old artist, containing pictures and hand-drawn illustrations of the popular "Flapper Fanny" cartoons. Other interesting collections included those of button pins with Art Hobson winning first prize, Gladys Jean Backes, second, and Chauncey Bee Hiscroft, third. An award of merit was presented to Robert McAlulay for his collection of milk bottle tops, representing 70 leading dairies in many states.

For stamp exhibits, Harold Martin won first place; Donald Miller, second; Leona Meyer, third, Eva Oswald, fourth, while special mention was given Kenneth Claypool Jr. Other exhibits included a crystal radio set made out of a cigar box by Basil Pantages who was awarded a ribbon of merit; poems, entered by Eva Oswald; flower scrap book by Ruth Louise Compton; a wood carving of a small Colonial boy by Delbert Winter; butterflies, Bobby Robinson; shells, Harold Martin, and a scrap book of pictures and stories of the Dionne quintuplets collected by Dorothy Johnson.

P. O. RECEIPTS GAIN

ORANGE, May 2.—Receipts at the Orange post office have made a gradual increase during the present year, according to Assistant Postmaster Walter V. Crane, receipts of April exceeding those of March by $38.10. Receipts for April totaled $2948.60 and those for March, $2810.50. In 1934, April receipts were $106 less than those of this year.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, May 2.—Members of the Compton L.O.O.F. lodge are to attend a meeting in this city tonight, when the first degree will be conferred on a number of initiates.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Shaller Arnold, Santa Ana canyon, are entertaining tonight with a dinner in honor of the latter's mother.

Adolph Dittmer has opened an eating place in the rear of his drug store on Plaza square in the building formerly occupied by the Spie 'n Span cleaners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pannell, 167 South Cambridge street had as a house guest this week, Miss Mildred Clure, of Huntington Park.

A full rolling boil for 5 minutes. Turn into jelly bag and let drain at will. There is almost enough pectin in the currant stems to jelly the liquid—that's why they are not stripped off.

Friday: Quick Chill Sauce, to make right now, and a fine recipe for Scotch Short Bread.

New Sewer System Scheduled For Laguna Beach

ALL PROTESTS OVERRULED BY CITY COUNCIL

LAGUNA BEACH, May 2.—Definite action looking toward immediate construction of a sanitary sewer connecting system in a district lying between Thalia street and Bluebird canyon, officially designated as "Sanitary Lateral Sewer District No. 1," involving a total cost of $47,584.19, was taken last night when the city council at its regular meeting overruled protests against the undertaking.

Altogether 14 written protests had been filed with the city clerk, representing less than two per cent of the area involved. There were no oral protests. Because of numerous complaints filed against the septic tank situation, it is believed that the city government will proceed at once with the installation of the sewer collecting system.

A communication was read from E. C. Vanderbilt, district superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company, with office in Los Angeles, stating his company and the Associated Telephone company have under consideration the establishment of a simplex printer, operated in the premises of the telephone company, under which arrangement continuous service will be provided, and the present rate between Laguna and Santa Ana eliminated, placing the Laguna office on the same rate as Santa Ana.

Referred in part to Councilman Mallow, police commissioner, and in part to the street department, for investigation and report, was a letter from Capt. Don Wilkie, complaining about conditions obtaining on Crescent beach, located off McKnight's division on the Cliff side of the community. In his letter, Captain Wilkie stressed the need of incinerators, signs urging use of incinerators in burning rubbish, enforcement of ordinances prohibiting septic tank overflow on the beach surface, and keeping dogs on leash. He also called attention to alleged disorderly conduct on the beach and in cars parked in violation of trespass law on property facing Crescent Beach.

A petition, asking for installation of a sanitary sewer collecting system in the Arch Beach Heights division, signed by 14 property owners, was referred to the city engineer for checking.

Under unfinished business, it was announced that no action had as yet been taken in a proposal to take over the Chamber of Commerce property on Park avenue, which had the council had time to thoroughly investigate.

Action on a petition of the Woman's Club of Laguna Beach, requesting an ordinance regulating the posting of advertising signs, was postponed until the next regular meeting when it is expected the city attorney will bring in a proposed ordinance. Consideration of a claim presented some time ago by Roy M. Ropp for unpaid fees as appraiser was laid over to the next meeting.

Contribution of city money for the purpose of staging a Fourth of July celebration here was conditioned on the amount of money raised among the merchants.

CLUB MEMBERS PAY VISIT TO BEACH GARDENS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 2.—

The third annual May Day Pilgrimage of the Huntington Beach Garden club was held Tuesday. The caravan of autos left the chamber of commerce office at 9 o'clock and during the day visited 30 of the loveliest gardens in the city. At the close of the tour each visitor cast a ballot for first, second and third choice of the gardens. The garden of Mrs. C. W. Patrick won first place, Mrs. Grace Dalany, second, and Mr. and Mrs. George Wardwell, third. Prizes of shrubs were presented to the winners.

City officials co-operated with the Garden club members in their plan of city beautification and the workers under Street Superintendent Henry Wirth combed the city streets with rakes, destroying weeds, leveling and cleaning alleys, and the gardens were more beautiful because of this co-operation on the part of public officials.

At noon a picnic lunch was enjoyed at the Boy Scout park, the Garden club serving hot coffee. The committee in charge of the pilgrimage included Mrs. Alf Dowdy, Mrs. Carl Yost and Mrs. Vivian Keller, president of the club.

THREE OIL FIRMS SEEKING SANDS IN COSTA MESA AREA; WILSHIRE WELL DOWN 200 FT.

COSTA MESA, May 2.—Three abandoned. The Nuoli company oil wells are engaged in drilling operations, one was put to pumping a few days ago, and plans are being made for starting another one immediately, in the Costa Mesa area.

The latest development is the Wilshire Oil company's No. 1 well, spudded in on the company's holdings in South Costa Mesa, which now has surface pipe set at the 200-foot level. A 100-foot steel rig is being used with cable-tool drilling equipment to make the hole. A test for production will be made in the sands just above the 200-foot level.

The Nuoli company, two locations away from the Wilshire well, has placed its No. 2 well on the beach and is making preparations to sink the rig, a 120-foot tower, to a new location and try for deeper production. Their No. 2 is producing from the shallow sands. The well was drilled into deep sands, some of which were encountered at about 6000 feet, but because of mechanical difficulties in the hole, the lower strata were

BROTHERHOOD OF COSTA MESA HOLDS PROGRAM

COSTA MESA, May 2.—One hundred people were present at the meeting of the Costa Mesa Men's brotherhood Tuesday on the installation of Henry Abrams, president of the organization and to hear an address by Arthur Corey, of Santa Ana, assistant superintendent of the schools of Orange county, on the topic, "Thumbs Up or Thumbs Down." Abrams succeeds Roy L. Davis as president.

"In olden days when a gladiator fell in combat in the arena, if the spectators turned their thumbs down, it meant he should be killed," Corey said, "now in the United States when Democracy is tottering on the verge of destruction, we are wondering whether the people of the nation will turn thumbs up or thumbs down."

"A Democracy, to work, must have more people educated into good citizens with characters of a high degree. Statistics show that the job is pretty well up to our public schools, as our churches reach but about 20 per cent of the people at present. We should stress the slogan, 'This must be a nation with laws by the people, of the people, and for the people.'"

Other numbers on the program were sleight-of-hand performances by Floyd Stewart, Santa Ana, and piano accordion selections by Miss Jackie Ballou.

Those present were Dick Owens, Donald Gibson, Miss Doris Gibson, Billy Hinesly, Earl and Robert Winterbourne, B. O. Withall, Miss Mildred Summerfield of Los Angeles, Mrs. A. Allen, the Reverend and Mrs. W. I. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballou, Leroy Shillings, Mrs. E. SERVICE CLUB MEMBERS TOLD OF POLICE WORK

NEWPORT BEACH, May 2.—The evolution of law, law enforcement, and law enforcement agencies was outlined to members of the Newport Harbor Service club Wednesday by Herman Zabel of the Orange county identification bureau at the regularly weekly luncheon meeting of the club.

Zabel, who said California was leading other states in identification work, commenced his talk with a discussion of the first known police force, in Babylon, Memphis and Tyre, and noted the progress of the constabulary to the modern highly efficient police forces of all types.

The greatest aids to police work in the past two decades, the speaker explained, have been the telephone and the radio. The automobile, according to Zabel, has been as much help to the criminal as the police officer.

Fingerprinting, the deputy sheriff said, is nearly as old as policemen, having been known and used as early as the 18th century. In closing his talk Zabel urged co-operation with law enforcement agencies and support in the move to obtain highly trained and intelligent police officers.

It was announced that the Service club would hold its last meeting of the current year on May 22, at which time it would disband until the third Wednesday in September. Election of officers will be held at the May 22 meeting, with nominations scheduled to be made in two weeks.

Short talks on fishing in Newport waters were given by Darrell King and E. I. Moore.

The DARK BLOND

A CARLETON KENDRAKE

© 1935 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MILICENT GRAYES, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, finds her employer in his office dead. JARVIS sends her to a beauty shop where she is transformed into a blond. She meets HARRY's son, NORMAN, his stepson, ROBERT CARBET, and VERA DUCHENE, Mrs. HARRY's maid.

That night a note under her door informs Millicent that the woman in the room is here. Millicent goes to the chauffeur's room and finds a dead woman. Next morning SERGEANT MAHONEY takes charge of the case. He questions Millicent. Later when she is in the corridor talking to Norman, he hears her answer the telephone downstairs. A moment later Mrs. HARRY screams.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Millicent remained rooted to the stairs, staring with wide, incredulous eyes. It was Norman who raced down the stairs, picked up Mrs. HARRY holding his hands beneath her arm-pits.

"What is it, Cynthia?" he asked. Twice she started to speak, and twice words failed to come from her lips.

"What is it?" Norman demanded again, alarm in his voice. "Your father," she said. "Who telephoned?"

"The men who had him." "The men who had him?" he asked. Millicent suddenly came to life. She sensed something of the significance of the words, ran down three or four stairs. "You mean he's been arrested?" she asked. Mrs. HARRY shook her head and said, "He's been kidnapped."

"What?" Norman HARRY exclaimed. "Kidnaped?" "How do you know?" "They said so over the telephone." "Who said so?" "The men who had him."

"What did they say?" "They said they had him, that he was safe for the present, that there was no use trying to look for him, and that under no circumstances were we to notify the police—that if we notified the police he would be killed."

"But what did they want?" Norman HARRY asked. "Was it money?" "They didn't say. They said they would communicate with me later, and then when they got in touch with me they'd give instructions as to what they wanted. They said I was to keep Mr. HARRY's disappearance completely concealed from the officers in the house."

Sergeant Mahoney moved from the head of the stairs, walking around the corner of the banister so that he was plainly visible. Mrs. HARRY's face wreathed itself in smiles. "It happens," she said, "that you overheard me telling this young man exactly what I thought of her. I'm afraid I wasn't mincing words."

"Indeed you weren't," Sergeant Mahoney said, coming down the stairs, "but you said something about your husband being kidnapped."

"Apparently."

Millicent was frowning, doing some very rapid thinking.

"He left his study," she said, "and gave Mr. Buchanan the key. Mr. Buchanan had some evidence he wanted to..."

Cynthia HARRY suddenly galvanized into life. She leveled an accusing forefinger at Millicent.

"You!" she screamed. "You're the little hussy that brought this all about! If it hadn't been for you this would never have happened! He brought you into the house and look what's happened. My husband has been killed. We're involved in scandal. There are police officers trooping about the house, asking questions and prying into things that are none of their business. And who's to blame for it—who's responsible?"

Cynthia HARRY's voice rose to a crescendo of hysterical accusation and her rigid forefinger fairly quivered as she pointed at Millicent.

"You are!"

Norman HARRY said, "Now listen, Cynthia, calm yourself. This isn't going to do anyone any good."

"The woman pushed him to one side. 'You're responsible,' she screamed at Millicent. 'Don't stand there with that mealy-mouthed look on your face. You can't bluff me with any of that kind of stuff. You're responsible for Harry's murder! It's because of you my husband's been kidnapped! You...'

Sergeant Mahoney's voice, from the head of the stairs, sounded as professionally cheerful as the voice of a doctor entering a sick room where the patient is lying on his death bed. "Well, well, well," he said, "so there seems to have been a kidnapping. Tell me about it, Mrs. HARRY."

At once Cynthia HARRY regained control of herself. She took a deep breath, stared at the head of the stairs with resentment glittering in her eyes.

Tonight we find Mr. and Mrs. Robinson discussing some of the letters received so far in the contest. One letter seems to attract particular attention, in fact, so much that suspicion of its origin is cast in the direction of Windy Bill, Mrs. Robinson's brother. We wonder if Windy really did write the letter—tonight's broadcast should tell the answer.

The ISLAND of DISPUTE

THE recent abortive revolution which ended with the flight of the former Greek premier, Eleutherios Venizelos, was only another incident in the troublesome history of the much-contested island of Crete. From its earliest days, this center of ancient culture was shunted from country to country until in 1913, it raised the flag of Greece. Venizelos, who had fought hard for this accomplishment, strangely enough fought just as hard recently to undo the same act, as a protest against Greece's signing of the Balkan Pact and its tendency to go monarchist.

THREATENS TO JOIN BOURBON EPIC SOLONS

BY GEORGE E. HELMER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 2. — (UP)—Small in stature, but powerful in attracting attention of his colleagues, Assemblyman H. Dewey Anderson, Cupertino Republican, has joined the Epic-Democratic group in its threat to block passage of the administration budget unless liberal legislation is given better treatment.
The Stanford professor, participating in his first session, has come to be regarded by some as the "little giant" because of his attacks on reactionary methods and the organization of administration strength to force passage or defeat of bills.
Elbowed around by Republican leaders when the session started, Anderson quickly became one of the most outspoken men in the assembly.
Despite the fact a drive for higher income taxes than those proposed by Governor Frank E. Merriam originated in the Epic-Democratic group, he carried the brunt of the fight along those lines. He was responsible, in large measure, for numerous minor amendments to the Charters income tax bill, which was adopted after stormy debates.
His joining forces with the Bourbons gave that solid bloc 27 votes—just the right number to stop any measure, such as the budget, which needs a two-third majority.
"More liberal legislation must prevail, or we'll refuse to pass the budget," he threatened. And such action would throw the legislature into a deadlock which would stop the operation of state government.
A pronounced liberal, Anderson fought his way to leadership in the progressive minority and now stands with Assemblymen Charlie

Hunt, Los Angeles, and William Moseley Jones, Montebello, as members most likely to jump to their feet and explode over Republican efforts to adopt its own party plans to the exclusion of the Democrats.
He was prominent in the fight for establishment of four-year colleges throughout the state. He aided in pushing a bill through the unemployment committee to extend SERA aid to self-help cooperatives. As a member of the committee on ways and means, he has scrutinized various budget increases asked by state departments, and legislators believed he was preparing to attack evidence of governmental extravagance.
His alignment with the Epic group gave him power which he did not hold as an individual legislator, and veteran members now regard him as one of the factors to be considered in the legislature even though some call him a "nuisance" because of his activity.

THE TINYMITES

The pirate cried, "We're on our way, I don't know where we'll land, today, but I'm sure we will have some fun, if all of you behave."

"I am the captain of this ship and what I say, goes, on this trip. You'd best not make me mad, because I sure know how to rave."

The Tinymites were quite surprised, cause suddenly they realized that they had set sail with a man who really seemed quite stuff.

They'd thought that he would be real kind. "It didn't take us long to find that you are mean."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

It takes a lot of insight to judge the outfit's correct.

"I want no back-talk from you tots. Remember, I know lots and lots of ways to spoil this trip for you. You'd best treat me just right."

"Why, I might make you swim to shore. Now, wouldn't that bring out a roar! The place we started from, right now, is almost out of sight."

The tots were quiet for a while. Then Goldy, with a sickly smile, leaned over to Doty, whispering, "Oh, gee, why did we come?"

"The pirate may toss us in, yet, and then we'd get our dresses wet. When we agreed to join the pirate, we were simply dumb!"

Just then a breeze began to blow and Scouty loudly shouted, "Oh, we're being carried toward an island. It's not far from here."

"The waves are breaking on the sand. I guess that's where we're going to land. It won't be long until we get a sudden bath, I fear."

"Hang on," cried Coppy. "We can try!" And then a wave washed way up high and took the small raft with it. Windy yelled, "Here's where we crash!"

The raft then got a sudden whack, and turned right over on its back. The whole bunch flopped into the water with an awful splash.

(The pirate puts the Tines to work in the next story.)

Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow marks another milestone in the epochal merchandising history of the automobile accessory and supply concern known as the Pep Boys, Manny, Moe and Jack of California, when they climax their second anniversary celebration with the opening of the ninth Pep Boys store in Southern California and the first of a new expansion program at 211 North Main street.

Phenomenal growth has followed the founding of the pioneer stores in Los Angeles two years ago. It is reported, flourishing units having been established since in Hollywood, Glendale, Huntington Park, Long Beach, Pasadena and San Bernardino.

Murray Rosenfeld, general manager of the Pep Boys of California, who is regarded as being mainly responsible for the remarkable record made by the concern, points with pride to the local store, one of the finest yet conceived. No expense has been spared to make it complete in every detail, he said.

"There is no magic about it," says Rosenfeld, "it's all very simple. We attempt nothing impossible, but merely make it our business to give the public the finest quality merchandise obtainable from reputable manufacturers who back their products with national advertising, at the lowest possible prices. The Pep Boys have won millions of friends through their fair dealings with the public. Wherever we have established stores, our efforts to please have met with good business and friendly relations. We anticipate such business and relations in Santa Ana, a city that we have the utmost regard for and one that certainly presents any business with plenty of opportunity."

"At every Pep Boys store, the public's guarantee is simply stated in these words: If you can buy it elsewhere for less... return it and either your money will be refunded or the difference returned; and low price plus quality... courtesy, plus service."

The Santa Ana store carries a complete line of auto accessories and supplies, tires, tubes, batteries, lubricants, auto radios and radio supplies.

CORBETT VS. BROUILLARD?

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—(UP)—Dickering for a new fight by Young Corbett III was begun today by Harry White, his manager, and "Moose" Tausig, Disabled American Veterans matchmaker. Lou Brouillard, Boston left-hander, was talked of as Corbett's opponent in a benefit fight May 30 for the state highway patrol.

O'MAHONEY WINNER
IN L. A. MAT DEBUT

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—(UP)—Dan O'Mahoney, 210, Ireland, made his introductory appearance in the international wrestling tournament here last night and scored an easy win over Howard Cantonwine, 235, of Iowa.

O'Mahoney threw the veteran Cantonwine in seven minutes, with his famous whip hold. Cantonwine, who entered the bout as the underdog, attempted to rough the Irish youngster, who retaliated with the same kind of treatment.

Jim Browning, 235, Missouri won the other half of the main event by throwing Vic Christy, 208, Long Beach, Calif., in 34:54. He used a backward body slam.

Breakfast Held
By Church Women

FULLERTON, May 2.—More than $100 was cleared Wednesday by women of the Presbyterian church when they served the annual May breakfast at the church social hall. The arrangements were in charge of the Woman's forum of the church, Mrs. Harry Craddock, president, with Mrs. Guy Church as general chairman of the affair.

Assisting Mrs. Church were all women of the church, with Mrs. Victor Porter in charge of decorations. She centered each table with May baskets filled with flowers, and from which long streamers went to each plate, with a menu attached.

Reveal Braddock
On Relief Rolls
Two Months Ago

NORTH BERGEN, N. J., May 2.—(UP)—James J. Braddock, who expects to make $40,000 from his coming bout with Max Baer, until recently with relief case No. 2796, forced to accept charity to keep his wife and three children from starving while he sought work on the waterfront.

Only two months ago, a political row revealed today, Braddock by his own admission was down and out. Fight managers considered him a "has been." Even he doubted that he could ever come back. Finally he got a relief job digging in the parks.

The work was hard but Braddock wanted hard work. Then he noticed that the exertion had improved his wind, toughened his body and put the spring back in his legs. He went around pleading for a fight, meanwhile acting occasionally as a sparring partner for a few dollars a day.

In June he got a bout with Corn Griffin for $250. He won. Sportswriters praised him, recalling that he had once been a top flight heavyweight. Other successful bouts followed and today Braddock raced along country roads conditioning himself for the fight that may open the way to wealth.

Baruch's Niece

A famed name is hidden behind the screen cognomen of Lee Renee, above, another recruit for Hollywood from New York's society set. She is the daughter of Harwig N. Baruch, prominent banker, and the niece of Bernard M. Baruch, world-known financier. Her father told her to "go to it," she says, so she did.

END HEARINGS ON TIDELAND DRILLING

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—(UP)—Special investigation of tideland oil drilling was completed by an assembly committee today and preparations were made to submit a complete report of findings and recommendations to the legislature.

Members of the committee did not intimate what they would suggest as a result of several lengthy hearings on complaints that oil was being removed illicitly from state-owned tideland pools.

Tex Harris Makes
Bruin Touchdown

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—(UP)—The University of California at Los Angeles football team closed spring training yesterday with a 22-0 victory over the freshmen in an exhibition game.

Two of the varsity's touchdowns were credited to the passing combination of Charles Cheehire and Fred Funk. A pass blocker by "Tex" Harris and a safety accounted for the other points.

GIZZY, LOPEZ DRAW
WILMINGTON, May 2.—(UP)—Batting Gizzy, 140, Chicago, and Perfecto Lopez, 140, Los Angeles, fought a six-round draw as the main event at the reopening of the Wilmington Bowl here last night. Augie Soliz, 133, San Pedro, deconditioned Charley Roper in the semi-final.

EXPERT TELLS HIGHLIGHTS OF BRUNO'S TRIAL

Richard Bruno Hauptmann received an eminently fair trial, he was convicted both by circumstantial and direct evidence, and no person who heard the evidence had any doubts of his guilt in the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby, it was declared by J. Clark Sellers, Los Angeles handwriting expert, speaking at a joint service club luncheon sponsored by the Lions and Kiwanis clubs at the American Legion hall at noon today.

Sellers was among the experts employed by the prosecution to examine the Hauptmann case documents, and he displayed a number of slides showing in a convincing manner how the peculiarities of Hauptmann's admitted handwriting were duplicated in the ransom notes written by the kidnaper.

Hauptmann, in the old country, was preparing himself for a crime career as a burglar, the speaker said, and was known as a lone wolf. He declared there was no evidence to show that Hauptmann had a confederate in the Lindbergh kidnaping. He intimated that the baby was "silenced forever" by the kidnaper while yet in the nursery of the Lindbergh home, because a child cannot be prevented from an outcry.

One of the factors which showed Hauptmann was a "lone wolf" in the Lindbergh kidnaping, Sellers declared, was the fact that ransom money recovered in Hauptmann's garage, plus the amount spent by Hauptmann's family since the crime, totaled within $12 of the $50,000 ransom money paid over by Dr. Condon, Jafsie of the case.

The handwriting and ladder evidence was the controlling evidence in the trial of Hauptmann, Sellers said, illustrating his talk with pictures, told many interesting details of the trial, culminating two and one-half years of investigation by the New Jersey state police.

So relentless is New Jersey in the prosecution of criminals, the speaker said, that many have become convinced that Hauptmann kidnaped "the wrong baby in the wrong state."

Concluding his talk, the speaker

Sales Tax Rebel
Grocer Is Jailed

A "rebel" against the "King of Kentucky" and the sales tax, B. R. Davis, above, Hopkinsville grocer, went to jail rather than be "a locust oppressing the people by taking their hard-earned pennies." When he has served his 10 days, Davis, 63, says he'll quit business rather than be a "publican," collecting the 10 per cent levy.

warned his hearers to be very careful of what and how they sign, and always sign their names close to the body of the document so that it could not easily be transferred to some other document, such as promissory note. He showed by a slide how one letter of recommendation had been obliterated by chemicals and transformed into a promissory note.

K. E. Morrison, president of the Lions club, presided at today's meeting, and the Lions club quartet, consisting of Andy Anderson, Frank Pierce, Henry Field and Walter Vleria, entertained with two numbers, accompanied on the piano by E. M. Sundquist. Morrison announced a five-minute talk contest and nomination of officers for next Thursday's Lions meeting.

The next Kiwanis meeting on Wednesday will feature a Mother's Day program, with wives and

U. S. CONFIDENT OF VICTORY IN TENNIS

NEW YORK, May 2.—(UP)—The United States Davis Cup squad, its non-playing captain and other officials were lined up today for European zone play on the presumption that the American zone tie will be won at Mexico City in matches beginning this week-end.

While the squad is tentative, Gene Mako and Donald Budge of California, Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., John Van Ryn of Philadelphia, and Sidney Wood of New York are under consideration, the U. S. L. T. A. announced.

Joseph W. Wear of Philadelphia, captain in 1928, has been chosen again. Charles S. Garland, member of the election committee and former cup player, will be in charge of training. His assistants will be Hans Nusslein, German professional, and Harry Hillman of Dartmouth.

Bryan Grant of Atlanta, who is on the team with Budge and Mako for the matches in Mexico, probably will not be selected for the European trip, if the U. S. advances that far.

URGE ROOSEVELT TO HELP MOONEY

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(UP)—An appeal was addressed to President Roosevelt today urging him to intervene in the Tom Mooney case and pointing out that more than 30 senators and representatives had written him in recent weeks asking some action.

The appeal was presented by the Mooney defense committee of Washington. It pointed out that Mr. Roosevelt had no power to pardon Mooney, under life sentence in San Quentin prison on charges of participation in the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing, but asked that he interest himself in the case.

mothers of members as special guests, it was announced at the meeting.

District Attorney S. B. Kaufman acted as program chairman for the day and introduced Sellers, who has been called for expert testimony in orange county superior court trials upon several occasions.

TRYING FOR UNITY

The Republican party is sorely in need of unity. Rarely has a party, priding itself on its wholesome conservatism, been so politically and economically mongrel as the Republican party has been for nearly a quarter of a century.

Within the fold there is an extreme right, an extreme left and a center. In the first division, we find Mr. Hoover and Chairman Fletcher of the national committee.

In the third division are such radicals as Cutting, Nye, Norris, and, formerly, LaFollette. Between these two groups are a few middle-of-the-roads like Vandenberg and Capper.

How to fuse these apparent irreconcilables is the task of the party. Nothing can be gained in the way of unity by bringing these irreconcilables all together in a prospective harmony meeting.

The atmosphere of such a gathering would be too heated. Unity in such a gathering might be as possible as order in bedlam.

So, five regional conferences have been proposed. In five different sections of the country, the leaders of the party of the region will come together for counsel.

It is quite conceivable that each of these regional conferences might unite on some common basis, resting upon the primary economic and social interests of the region.

The Atlantic Coast states, the Middle West, the farm belt, the mountain region and the Pacific coast states, each could come together in a reasonable amount of unity. But there is no reason to believe that the conclusions reached in each could be merged in a common conclusion in which all were represented.

That is the problem that faces the old party. It seems insoluble now. Nothing but a common opposition to the Democratic party can possibly unite its members. And that seems no longer possible.

The LaFollettes have broken away and organized a party of their own. The Farm-Labor groups in the Northwest are already outside the pale. Norris in Nebraska and Cutting of New Mexico are on the extreme edge of the reservation.

Borah can usually be relied upon to vote straight in the general election, but refuses thereafter to run always with the herd. To some extent, the same can be said for Senator Johnson, though Senator Johnson carries his independence a great deal farther than Borah, even to leaving the party's candidate, as he did when he supported President Roosevelt in 1932.

So, there you are. "All the king's horses and all the king's men," in the nursery rhyme, "could not put Humpty-Dumpty together again" after his great fall.

And the same seems to be true of the G. O. P. It may not be utterly impossible, for who could have predicted a Harding landslide after the great split of 1912, eight years before? "Politics," so goes the old adage, "makes strange bedfellows." Politicians who have nothing in common today, tomorrow may be united against a common foe.

Not that they love this foe more, but love the enemy less. In politics all things are possible.

The regional conferences may concoct a political cement, or the Democratic party may make a break which will weld the now conflicting elements of the G. O. P. Political history is not without precedents in the matter.

ACHIEVING SUCCESS IN ALL WAYS

We believe that it was Geikie who defined success as "obtaining a fair share of this world's goods, without the sacrifice of moral and spiritual values."

At any rate, we believe this is as fair a definition of "success," in terms of reality, as we could probably make.

Our mind ran to this discussion by Mr. Geikie, as we were thinking of the development of an enterprise which has been conducted by two men, brothers, whose homes are in Santa Ana.

We refer to the Gerrard brothers, and their business of the sale of food products, under the business name of "Alpha Beta" stores.

Here are two men, Hugh and A. W. Gerrard, who have built up a business through 25 years of devoted effort, on probably as high principles as men can conduct business affairs.

They recognize that which must be the foundation of every really valuable business enterprise,—that service to people insures success if it is rendered along some line of need, and in a manner as good or better than others can render it.

These are men who realize that they owe more to the community than simply making a living out of it.

They have not only built up a business that has its ramifications in many communities round about, but they have built themselves into the civic and religious life of Santa Ana, aiding and strengthening every good work into which citizens enter.

No enterprise, like the church, the Community Chest, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Boy Scouts, the Salvation Army and other civic enterprises, is carried on without receiving its due measure of support from these men.

It is a pleasure to people in a community to know that men with these ideals, interested in all that is for the welfare of humanity, are with successful in their business, for a part of that success goes to the support of everything which is for the community's good.

We congratulate them on their progress and on their further planning and bespeak for them the continued success which they so richly deserve.

NEW YORK IS LOSING ITS FINANCIAL GRIP

There is every appearance that the financial leaders of the country are not all agreed on the banking policy of the administration. There is a rising revolt against the dominance of New York in monetary affairs.

The New York financial groups are international in their outlook. From the Mississippi to the Pacific Coast, there is more of a nationalist point of view.

It is a matter of some significance that the head of the Federal Reserve board is from Salt Lake City, a place sufficiently remote from Wall Street to have its own financial philosophy. His bill to centralize financial credit in Washington rather than in New York does not go down well with those who hitherto have controlled the financial affairs of the country.

That is not to say that New York will lose its prestige. But it does mean that the country as a whole is not willing to accept without critical examination the financial gospel according to Wall Street. The Middle West and the Coast prefer to locate the credit center in Washington rather than in New York.

The debacle of 1929 revealed how vulnerable Wall Street was, and how the banks and the banks of the country became the pawns of a small Eastern group of financiers who had segregated the financial resources of the country under their own control.

Since that time, the Western part of the country has been less impressed with the financial wizardry of the Wall Street group. The financial leaders of the Western regions have become regionally self-conscious. They are looking around them rather than exclusively in the direction of New York.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE PANHANDLER

The fellow who accosts you on the street for a nickel to buy a cup of coffee is found to be an abnormal person, according to an investigation conducted by the New York police of over 6000 of these "gents" of the out-stretched palm. Therefore, they ought not to be encouraged.

Of the 6,261 panhandlers gathered up on the streets of New York, 5,205 were found to be abnormal. They were found to be alcoholics, narcotic addicts and persons mentally and physically handicapped. Of the number 996 were apparently normal.

If these people are to be rehabilitated, it can be seen that a hand-out to them is not good for them, nor is it good for society. It gives to the man who hands out the nickel a sense of having done a charitable act. But in doing so, he has done nothing more than to give himself a good feeling of having done what a kind man ought to do.

It takes a bit of cold-bloodedness to turn down a poor derelict who is cold and hungry. But it should be remembered that a nickel can do very little to ease a man's suffering. In fact, it may be doing the man, in the long run, a positive harm.

The advice of the police is: "Never help a panhandler. Turn him over to the police. If he is a worthy man, he will be cared for."

The Right to Parade

If the Communists and Socialists of this city wish to hold a May Day parade they are entitled to a police permit for one. No one disputes the general principle. As organized political parties they have a right to display their solidarity and their following. But the route for the parade—there's the rub! Mayor La Guardia was understood last year to have decided that no parades should be allowed the freedom of streets where business would be interrupted and hampered by the demonstrations, and residents and passers-by put to great inconvenience. It should be a parade and not a nuisance. This year's routing follows that conception in certain respects, but does not meet the objection of many in the shopping districts of lower Fifth Avenue and adjoining areas. There is fear, not of violence, but of a long-drawn-out parade with accompanying crowds sure to turn away prospective buyers.

These apprehensions and complaints should be taken into consideration by the Police Department. With it lies the primary responsibility for granting permits, but ultimately the Mayor has authority to direct the police. There is no question of forbidding or suppressing the parade, but only of preventing it from working a public injury. There are other streets than those indicated where the paraders can march, have their speaking and singing and waving of banners and placards without upsetting the daily course of business. The Police Department ought again to try its hand at planning the thing, and see if it could not do better.

Shell-Game

Rumania has resolved to become the most powerful military power in the Balkans. It has contracted with the international munitions trust to supply it with $25,000,000 worth of artillery and ammunition, and it has set up a budget of $220,000,000 to be spent with the same people within 10 years. All this means is that Rumania must have a war within 10 years, or suffer a net loss of half a billion dollars—mostly borrowed money. This is a definite investment in war. Only war will justify it. Only a victory in war will exhibit any "profit." And the victors of the World War have been conducting an 18-year exhibit of the emptiness of that kind of profit.

Rumania is betting half a billion dollars on a shell-game that no customer has ever yet won.

Her Peace of Mind

Oakland Tribune

Mary McElroy of Kansas City is one girl who is willing to set her "peace of mind" against what her elders believe to be public welfare.

She was a victim of kidnappers at a time when there were many crimes of the kind. Because the kidnappers have been caught and given the most severe punishment there has been a noticeable decline in the fiendish business.

If the plea of this girl for her peace of mind is granted, so much of the warning that is in the law will have been removed. The issue is not one of this girl, her sentiments, or the particular kidnaper. It concerns the necessity for society to protect itself against one of the most foul rackets in our criminal history.

OLD STUFF

Evidence of ancient cartoons have been discovered in Egypt.

I always supposed that the "comics," which you find upon page after page while you daily peruse bits of up to date news, were a symbol and sign of the age. Such pictures, I fancied, were modern. Unknown to the peoples of old, and that anything rough in pictorial stuff left our long-vanished ancestors cold.

But this view, I have found, is mistaken; The Egyptians, I've come to surmise, must have taken delight in a good lively fight.

With dromedaries and cranberry pies. Cartoons have been lately discovered in the branch of endeavor called Art; That the boys of B. C. were addicted to rather rough play.

Comic strips, it would seem, are not modern; They were chiseled in marble and lime, And are still to be found Buried deep in the ground. Mute reminders of old Pharaoh's time. We fancy that we are progressive in the branch of endeavor called Art; But as soon as you cast Your eyes on the past You will find we're just getting a start.

GIVE HIM A HAND

Anyway, Mr. Roosevelt has not as yet said that the biggest fish got away.

MORE TROUBLE

Dust storms have begun blowing from west to east, and the weary harried farmers will soon have to go to New York to find out what has become of their real estate.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

When he says, "This is what our country needs," he always means, "This would pay me a profit." Take the profit out of war? Well, Russia took the profit out of all industry, and now look at it.

No law is needed to take the profit out of war. The post-war slump and the tax bill tend to it. The lower classes have itched between the fingers. Nice people have it only in the palms.

The bore would be charming. Even cobra poison is a great medicine if given in very small doses.

THE BACHELOR HAS ADVANTAGES, BUT THINK OF HAVING NOBODY TO LISTEN WHEN YOU WISH TO BRAG.

Science has discovered drugs to alleviate all pains except one in the neck.

The grouchy critic can't help it. The best dog snaps at everybody when he is hurt and suffering.

AMERICANISM: (1) "Who cares about the national debt? The big fellows will pay it." (2) "Why do the big fellows charge so much and pay us so little?"

Blessed are the poor. They don't need a guard to keep out people who have something to sell.

What's in a name? Well, let's see you win fame with a name too long to go in the headlines.

But who wants a home built with government money? You can't mortgage the thing to buy a car.

THE GRAND MANNER IS USELESS IN A DEMOCRACY, EXCEPT TO SHORTEN THE ARGUMENT WITH A PEDDLER.

No war profits? No profit, no spending money; no spending money, no business; no business, no tax money. Few people listen to radio speeches. They don't enjoy any kind of talk they can't interrupt.

You can tell a man whose success is assured. He no longer gives a darn whether he pleases you or not.

General practice: A method of getting the money needed to establish oneself as a specialist.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "THE SPECIALIST HAS A SNAP," SAID THE YOUNG M. D. "BUT I PREFER A COUNTRY PRACTICE WHERE I CAN DO MORE GOOD."

Thoughts On Modern Life

THE VERSAILLES OF THE NEW DEAL

The New Deal approaches its critical reassessment and change before they should be made permanent, if indeed they should be made permanent.

About a year ago I suggested that sooner or later Franklin D. Roosevelt's leadership would arrive at the point reached by Woodrow Wilson's leadership when Mr. Wilson joined in the final formulation of the Versailles treaty.

I meant by that that the NRA and the AAA are to Mr. Roosevelt's domestic policy what the League of Nations was to Mr. Wilson's foreign policy.

Mr. Wilson had finally to put his central idea of the control of the destructive enterprise of war to the test of translation into permanent organic form in the League of Nations. Mr. Roosevelt must put his central idea of the control of the productive enterprises of business, industry, finance and agriculture to the test of translation into permanent organic form in the NRA, AAA and related acts.

The initial forms of these were confessedly improvised and open to critical reassessment and change before they should be made permanent, if indeed they should be made permanent.

The Versailles moment for deciding what, if any, shall be the final form these policies shall take has arrived or has almost arrived for Mr. Roosevelt.

Two dangers, not unlike the dangers that confronted Mr. Wilson, now confront Mr. Roosevelt. (1) He can make the mistake of clinging too stubbornly to features of the NRA, AAA and the other acts that are manifestly unworkable.

(2) He can make the mistake of taking the easiest way and yielding so far to unenlightened pressure that in giving up the unworkable features of his emergency legislation he will give up any attempt to effect those fundamental readjustments without which we shall, even if recovery comes, stumble shortly thereafter into a new crisis.

SELECTING THE JOB

"Give me something to do, Aunt Carrie, will you? I haven't anything to do."

"What would you like to do?" "Oh, anything. Just so as I have something to do."

"All right. Go get your scissors and paste. I'll show you how to make something pretty."

Auntie tore out a page of colored decoration from the back of a magazine. "You cut squares of color out of this and when you have twenty-four squares I'll show you what to do with them."

"How big?" "Oh, about so big," and Aunt Carrie marked off a square with the end of her crochet hook.

Did you ever try to cut out an inch square? And make twenty-four of them exactly the same size without a good pattern? Or cut an accurate freehand square to begin with. Unless the squares are accurate, they cannot be used for construction or design. No child can cut twenty-four squares free hand. That means that no child of kindergarten age can construct anything satisfactory of those twenty-four pieces of paper.

If a child is given an impossible task, and this is one—for a five year old, he is given along with the task a set of the most discouraging experiences that can come to long suffering childhood. He finds he cannot get the edges true. The squares differ in size. No matter how hard he tries to have them right they come wrong. When he tries to paste them to form a pattern he discovers he has a mess on his hands. He is tired to death, oppressed by failure, thoroughly discouraged about himself and his work. The next time somebody suggests scissors and paste he is very likely to say, "Not for me."

Selecting a job for a child is a responsibility not to be carelessly discharged. The task ought to be within the child's powers, well within them so that he has a big margin for success. It is necessary that beginners succeed in whatever they undertake at our suggestion. If they fail they tie their failure to us, and to the kind of work we give them. They will try to avoid us and the work in the future. The attitude toward work that such a failure sets is not the least of the undesirable

Here and There

On May 15, 1919, the first air mail was flown between Cleveland and Chicago, and on July 1 of the same year operations were extended from Cleveland to New York.

Seven autogiros were produced in 1933 as compared with 21 in the preceding year.

Bureau of Air Commerce regulations prohibit the flying of scheduled interstate air-transport planes, carrying passengers for hire, below an altitude of 500 feet.

Through transcontinental air mail service, with day and night flying, began July 1, 1924.

Passenger service over the country's air lines was available in 1926, the first year of contract air mail, when some of the contractors began to take passengers in the mail planes. In that year 5782 passengers were carried.

By the end of the World War the United States had built nearly 17,000 planes, taught some 10,000 men to fly, and trained thousands of artisans and mechanics to construct aircraft and keep them in repair.

Scheduled air lines, during July, carried 166,605 pounds of express.

An airplane entering British India must be landed for the first time in any journey at, and must finally depart from, a customs airfield, unless the aircraft is compelled to land before arriving at or after departing from such an airfield, by accident, stress of weather or other unavoidable cause.
